Serve the Power(s), Serve the State Michael J. Braddick,Juan Carlos Garavaglia,Christian Lamouroux,2016-06-22 The companion volume to Latin American Bureaucracy State and the State Building Process 1780 1860 2013 this book examines the organization and the consolidation of various groups including judicial officers and tax agents administrative clerks and soldiers and merchants and money lenders acting to create or reacting to ruin in the case of the collective resistance to taxes newly emergent forms of social and political power Chapters range across Latin America and the United States Spain Modern England Russia India and the Far East and the longue dur e of Eurasian history 12th 19th centuries They reveal that beyond the general impact of kinship networks different processes resulted in the consolidation of a new authority based on specialized knowledge and professionalization The importance attached to the role played by these new servants by imperial royal or feudal courts led to new forms of recruitment new procedures of evaluation and the regularization of daily work It also led to the establishment of new hierarchies and to the reinforcement of the identity of these various groups who were aggregating to defend shared interests develop alliances create methods of intervention and define fields of expertise In this respect the concept of State is revisited here as a diverse and locally varied process grounded on differing historical experiences but which produced similar public officers who saw themselves as powerful servants managing a part of the public authority
