

Recent World Bank Report:

« Inflation decline, Afghani appreciation against other currencies, domestic price stability and improvement of the banking sector of Afghanistan »

The World Bank (WB) has recently published a report on July 31, 2023, highlighted that the economy of Afghanistan has been improved. The report illustrates that the inflation rate has been dropped compared to the previous months and Afghani appreciated against other currencies. As a result, the primary objective of Da Afghanistan Bank, which is domestic price stability, has been achieved and managed properly. It also revealed that the banking sector of the country has been improved, owing to implementation of effective and prudential policies of Da Afghanistan Bank. At the same time, WB has also pointed out to the increase in the country domestic products, creation of employment opportunities, timely payment of the rights and privileges of the civil servants, quality health services delivery, rise in the exports and national income of Afghanistan and providing appropriate business opportunities. It has to be mentioned that releasing likewise reports, which are naturally based on expert evaluations and analyses, demonstrates that Afghanistan is taking fast steps in a positive direction and that economic affairs are managed properly. DAB, while welcoming all positive points based on objective facts of this report, is confident that positive interaction of international community with Afghanistan, removing the current restrictions on the banking sector and unfreezing foreign exchange reserves of Afghanistan is leading to further economic growth and will be pushed towards further strengthening and stability. In reference to the WB report, DAB leadership assures that the bank is committed to maintaining the stability of financial and banking sector, given the best regulatory and supervisory practices and strategies and continues to take effective and useful measures for controlling inflation and maintaining Afghani stability, until the country flourishes further.

international development Challenges in Health and Development is a primer on the changing configurations of population health and economic growth in development policy. It examines strategies of investing in human health and investing in economic growth as distinct approaches to development. It comes of the same from a global, national and community level perspective. Each chapter introduces concepts of economic development and population health and uses case studies to illustrate the same. These case studies include program and policy examples from Bangladesh, Chile, Haiti, Rwanda, South Africa and Sri Lanka. This text examines the impact of macroeconomic adjustment programs, health care restructuring, investment in primary health care, public-private partnerships and the challenges of program coordination and up-scaling in stable and conflict-ridden countries. Discussion questions are provided at the end of each chapter to facilitate classroom activities.

Global Uncertainty and the Volatility of Agricultural Commodities Prices B.R. Munier, 2012-04-24 The recent global financial crisis exposed the serious limitations of existing economic and financial models. Not only did macro models fail to predict the crisis, they seemed incapable of explaining what was happening to the economy. Policymakers felt abandoned by the conventional tools of the now obsolete Washington consensus and the World Trade Organization's oversimplified faith in free markets. The traditional models for agricultural commodities have so far failed to take into account the uncertain character of the global agricultural economy and its ferocious consequences in food price volatility, the worst in 300 years, yielding hunger riots throughout the world. This book explores the elements which could help to close this fundamental modeling gap. To what extent should traditional models be questioned regarding agricultural commodities? Are prices on these markets foreseeable? Can their evolution be either predicted or convincingly simulated, and if so, by which methods and models? Presenting contributions from acknowledged experts from several countries and backgrounds, professors at major international universities or researchers within specialized international organizations, the book concentrates on four issues: the role of expectations and capacity of prediction; policy issues related to development strategies and food security; the role of hoarding and speculation; and finally, global modeling methods. The book offers a renewed wisdom on some of the core issues in the world economy today and puts forward important innovations in analyzing these core issues, among which the modular modeling design, the Momagri model being a seminal example of it. Reading this book should inspire fruitful revisions in policy making to improve the welfare of populations worldwide.

Corporations, Global Governance, and Post-conflict Reconstruction Peter Davis, 2013 In the past two decades, the international community has shown an increased proclivity to engage in programmes of post-conflict reconstruction in the aftermath of wars. During the same period, increased globalisation has meant that multinational companies have grown greatly in size and influence and have begun to challenge existing notions of governance at a global level. Here Peter Davis explores the reconstruction processes that have taken place in Azerbaijan, Bosnia and Rwanda. Based on extensive field work as well as existing literature, this book plots the recovery of these countries from conflict and examines in detail the role that international companies have played in that process The book also explores how companies impacts on reconstruction are governed both by the companies themselves and by the host government and international agencies managing the rebuilding process Climate change, water and agriculture in the Greater Mekong Subregion ,2010 The impacts of climate change on agriculture and food production in Southeast Asia will be largely mediated through water but climate is only one driver of change Water resources in the region will be shaped by a complex mixture of social economic and environmental factors This report reviews the current status and trends in water management in the Greater Mekong Subregion assesses likely impacts of climate change on water resources to 2050 examines water management strategies in the context of climate and other changes and identifies priority actions for governments and communities to improve resilience of the water sector and safeguard food production Food for Thought United States.
