Compound Solutions Susan Craddock, 2017-02-21 Claiming 1.5 million lives in 2015 tuberculosis is the world's most deadly infectious disease Because of the population it overwhelmingly affects however pharmaceutical companies are uninterested in developing better drugs for the disease Compound Solutions examines Product Development Partnerships PDPs which arose early in the twenty first century to develop new drugs and vaccines for infectious diseases in low income countries Here for the first time is a sustained examination of PDPs the work they do the partnerships they form their mission and their underlying philosophy of addressing global health needs with implications that extend well beyond tuberculosis Focusing on two PDPs for tuberculosis the Global Alliance for TB Drug

Development TB Alliance and Aeras a nonprofit focused on vaccine development Susan Craddock argues that PDPs do much more than product development As innovative sites of humanitarian pharmaceutical production they are contravening mainstream pharmaceutical production by tying drug and vaccine research to global health needs rather than shareholder demand In largely untethering the profit incentive from pharmaceutical production Craddock shows PDPs exhibit more creative and efficient scientific practices reshaping regulatory norms and implementing more ethical forms of clinical trials that enhance community engagement and capacity building An unparalleled interdisciplinary analysis of PDPs as politically socially scientifically and economically innovative sites of pharmaceutical production Compound Solutions is a must for readers in the fields of public health science and technology studies and medical social science Routledge Handbook of Sports Event Management Milena Parent, Jean-Loup Chappelet, 2017-07-14 From the Olympic Games to community level competitions sports events can be complex and pose a particular set of managerial challenges The Routledge Handbook of Sports Event Management surveys the management of sports events around the world of every size and scale from small to mega events including one off and recurring events and single sport and multi sport events The book adopts a unique stakeholder perspective structured around the groups and individuals who have an interest in and co create sports events including organising committees promoters sport organisations spectators community groups sponsors host governments the media and NGOs Each chapter addresses a specific stakeholder defines that stakeholder and its relationships with sports events describes the managerial requirements for a successful event assesses current research and directions for future research and outlines the normative dimensions of stakeholder engagement such as sustainability and legacy No other book takes such a broad view of sports event management surveying key theory current research best practice and moral and ethical considerations in one volume With contributions from leading sport and event scholars from around the world the Routledge Handbook of Sports Event Management is essential reading for any advanced student researcher or professional with an interest in sport management sport development sport policy or events Prevention Science in School Settings Kris Bosworth, 2015-11-24 This straightforward volume makes a strong practical research based case for integrating prevention programs into middle and high schools Written by experts in prevention science and education it examines educational goals and prevention of risky behaviors as parallel and complementary processes and provides evidence for health promoting schools as a critical forum for student development Chapters show the benefits of this collaboration as instructors engage with prevention content prevention scientists study schools and create interventions and counselors develop and implement activities resulting in improved academic social and health outcomes Examples of successful prevention strategies address personal and public health issues as varied as substance abuse dating violence dropping out and suicide Among the topics covered Engaging school leaders in prevention Developing school based prevention curricula Scaling up evidence based prevention interventions and practices Conducting prevention research and evaluation in schools

Promoting a positive school climate and culture Reducing disruptive behavior violence and bullying Child and school psychologists administrators teachers school counselors and prevention specialists will find significant common ground in Prevention Science in School Settings The breadth and depth of coverage point to new multidisciplinary directions in health education school climate culture and positive youth development SAT Subject Test World History William V. Melega, 2020-12-01 Note College Board has discontinued the SAT Subject Tests in the US The tests will be available outside the US in June 2021 and then be discontinued This prep book presents a general overview of world history making it an ideal study aid for those preparing to take the SAT Subject Test World History Twenty five units review the entire scope of human history and include The emergence of early human communities The development of agricultural societies The emergence of civilizations Global exchange among peoples The development of industry Global demographic economical ecological social and cultural changes Also included are two full length model tests with answer explanations for all questions plus one more practice test online Fire on the Water Robert Haddick, 2014-09-15 The main theme of Fire on the Water is that conventional measures of military balance employed by both the general public and many policy experts underestimate the threat that China's military modernization poses to the U S position in the Asia Pacific region Within a decade China's leaders will have the military power to hold at risk U S interest in East Asia The U S needs to fashion a new and competitive strategy one that better matches the strengths of the U S and its allies against China's vulnerabilities in order to maintain a balance of power in the region and convince China's leaders to pursue a cooperative course It is not obvious to many observers why a conflict in the region is plausible or why the U S should bear the responsibility for maintaining a forward military presence in the region China has rapidly emerged as a great power and by doing so has acquired many vital interests around the world Following the pattern set by other such episodes in history China is also acquiring the military means to protect its new interests a development that puts at risk the interests of China's neighbors and the United States The U S forward military presence in the region is an increasingly difficult burden to sustain But in the long run this approach will be less costly and less risky than encouraging China's neighbors to balance China by themselves an alternative that will very likely result in an unstable arms race and a conflict that will damage America's interests While it will be in America's interest to maintain its position in the Asia Pacific region China's military modernization is making it much more difficult for the U S to do so China's military strategy centered on its rapidly expanding land based and anti ship missile forces is exploiting weaknesses in long standing U S force structure and doctrine Due to a variety of institutional barriers the U S has been slow to adapt to China's military modernization Current efforts to respond are impractical in that they expend U S resources against China's strengths rather than its vulnerabilities The U S needs a new and competitive strategy that will strengthen its alliances in the region and convince China's leaders that cooperation rather than military expansion and an attempt at regional hegemony will be China's best course Fire on the Water proposes reforms to U S diplomacy military programs and strategy that will offer a better chance at preserving stability The goal of these reforms is to thwart China's well designed military modernization plan bolster the confidence and credibility of U S alliances in the region and thus persuade China's leaders that China's best course is cooperation rather than conflict the outcome that has usually occurred in history when a new great power has rapidly emerged 2014 Li Yuming,Li Wei,2019-09-23 China with the world's largest population numerous ethnic groups and vast geographical space is also rich in languages Since 2006 China's State Language Commission has been publishing annual reports on what is called language life in China These reports cover language policy and planning initiatives at the national provincial and local levels new trends in language use in a variety of social domains and major events concerning languages in mainland China Hong Kong Macau and Taiwan Now for the first time these reports are available in English for anyone interested in Chinese language and linguistics China's language education and social policies as well as everyday language use among the ordinary people in China The invaluable data contained in these reports provide an essential reference to researchers professionals policy makers and China watchers Diagnosis and Management of Addiction and Other Mental Disorders (Dual Disorders) Ana Adan,Marta Torrens,2021-08-17 This book includes a compilation of papers published in 2020 and 2021 focused on dual disorders which are found in significant and growing numbers in both substance addiction and mental health clinics These contributions assume a broad perspective ranging from exposure to genetic and neurobiological elements to factors such as personality and quality of life In all cases these papers aimed to be transferred to and to benefit clinical practice North Korea, International Law and the Dual Crises Morse Tan,2015-04-24 The Democratic People's Republic of Korea DPRK has a reputation as one of the worst human rights situations in the world This book utilizes a unique international law perspective to examine the actions and inactions of North Korea with regard to international security and human rights Adopting political military historical and legal perspectives the book explores how the two issues of nuclear weapons and the human rights abuses in North Korea are interconnected and why the international community should apply the same international law framework to find a solution for both Drawing on eyewitness accounts such as refugee and defector testimony Morse Tan offers a real life story of North Korea that covers the pertinent law and constructive approaches of its regime Tan examines the specific objectives and actions of the North Korean government and measures these according to international legal obligations such as applicable treaty law jus cogens norms and customary international law The book concludes by offering solutions for dealing with international security surrounding the Korean Peninsula and forwards a proposal for the creation of a tribunal to prosecute those at the top of the regime for international crimes and human rights abuses As a project exploring the extremes of international law violation this book will be of great interest and use to readers interested in the history and political and legal implications of the strategies employed by the North Korea government
