The Joy of Teaching Peter Filene, 2009-11-13 Gathering concepts and techniques borrowed from outstanding college professors The Joy of Teaching provides helpful guidance for new instructors developing and teaching their first college courses Award winning professor Peter Filene proposes that teaching should not be like a baseball game in which the instructor pitches ideas to students to see whether they hit or strike out Ideally he says teaching should resemble a game of Frisbee in which the teacher invites students to catch ideas and pass them on Rather than prescribe any single model for success Filene lays out the advantages and disadvantages of various pedagogical strategies inviting new teachers to make choices based on their own personalities values and goals Filene tackles everything from syllabus writing and lecture planning to class discussions grading and teacher student interactions outside the classroom The book s down to earth accessible style makes it appropriate for new teachers in all fields Instructors in the humanities the social sciences and the natural sciences will all welcome its invaluable tips for successful teaching and learning The Ashgate Companion to the History of Textile Workers, 1650–2000 Dr Elise van Nederveen Meerkerk, Mr Els Hiemstra-Kuperus, Prof Dr Lex Heerma van Voss, 2013-06-28 This impressive collection offers the first systematic global and comparative history of textile workers over the course of 350 years This period covers the major changes in wool and cotton production and the global picture from pre industrial times through to the twentieth century After an introduction the first part of the book is divided into twenty national studies on textile production over the period 1650 2000 To make them useful tools for international comparisons each national overview is based on a consistent framework that defines the topics and issues to be treated in each chapter The countries described have been selected to include the major historic producers of woollen and cotton fabrics and the diversity of global experience and include not only European nations but also Argentina Brazil China Egypt India Japan Mexico Turkey Uruguay and the USA The second part of the book consists of ten comparative papers on topics including globalization and trade organization of production space identity workplace institutions production relations gender ethnicity and the textile firm These are based on the national overviews and additional literature and will help apply current interdisciplinary and cultural concerns to a subject traditionally viewed largely through a social and economic history lens Whilst offering a unique reference source for anyone interested in the history of a particular country's textile industry the true strength of this project lies in its capacity of international comparison By providing global comparative studies of key textile industries and workers both geographically and thematically this book provides a comprehensive and contemporary analysis of a major element of the world's economy This allows historians to challenge many of the received ideas about globalization for instance highlighting how global competition for lower production costs is by no means a uniquely modern issue and has been a feature of textile production for much of the last 350 years As such this collection will be welcomed by all scholars engaged in the history of the textile industry and international trade El-Hi Textbooks in Print, 1982

Perspectives on History, 2009 SAGE Handbook of Education for Citizenship and Democracy James Arthur, Ian Davies, Carole Hahn, 2008-07-01 This handbook brings together new work by some of the leading authorities on citizenship education and is divided into five sections The first section deals with key ideas about citizenship education including democracy rights globalization and equity Section two contains a wide range of national case studies of citizenship education including African Asian Australian European and North and South American examples The third section focuses on perspectives about citizenship education with discussions about key areas such as sustainable development anti racism gender Section four provides insights into different characterisations of citizenship education with illustrations of democratic schools peace and conflict education global education human rights education etc The final section provides a series of chapters on the pedagogy of citizenship education with discussions about curriculum teaching learning and assessment
