World Investment Report 2024 United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD),2024-06-24 Business and investment facilitation have become central to both private sector development and FDI attraction efforts of governments in developing countries At the core are information provision transparency of rules and regulations and streamlining of administrative procedures Because these elements are information and procedures based digitalization is central to effective implementation They have thus led to a wave of digital government initiatives including information portals and online single windows Digital government has the potential to address many institutional challenges faced in developing countries strengthening governance reducing costs improving services and combating corruption Because governance and institutional weaknesses are a key obstacle to attracting investment in many developing countries digital government and the promotion of investment for sustainable development are closely intertwined Development Co-operation Report 2016 The Sustainable Development Goals as Business Opportunities OECD,2016-07-18 The face of development has changed with diverse stakeholders involved and implicated in what are more and more seen as global and interlinked concerns At the same time there is an urgent need to mobilise unprecedented resources to achieve the ambitious Sustainable Development Goals Proportionality in Investor-State Arbitration Gebhard Bücheler,2015-06-11 While international investment law is one of the most dynamic and thriving fields of international law it is increasingly criticized for failing to strike a fair balance between private property rights and the public interest Proportionality is a tool to resolve conflicts between competing rights and interests This book assesses its current role its potential and its limits in investor State arbitration Proportionality is often lauded for reconciling colliding interests This book identifies three factors arbitrators should consider before engaging in a proportionality analysis the rule of law the risk of judicial law making and the availability of a value system that guides the proportionality analysis Apart from making suggestions when arbitrators should apply proportionality and when not to the book outlines what States can do to recalibrate the balance between private property rights and the public interest if they wish to do so without dismantling the current system of investor State arbitration Proportionality in Investor State Arbitration considers whether and to what extent the notion of general principles of law within the meaning of Article 38 1 c of the ICJ Statute and the concept of systemic integration enshrined in Article 31 3 c of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties provides a valid legal foundation for applying proportionality in investor State arbitration Shifting Paradigms in International Investment Law Steffen Hindelang,Markus Krajewski,2016-01-21

International investment law is in transition Whereas the prevailing mindset has always been the protection of the economic interests of individual investors new developments in international investment law have brought about a paradigm shift There is now more than ever before an interest in a more inclusive transparent and public regime Shifting Paradigms in International Investment Law addresses these changes against the background of the UNCTAD framework to reform investment treaties The book analyses how the investment treaty regime has changed and how it ought to be changing to reconcile private property interests and the state s duty to regulate in the public interest In doing so the volume tracks attempts in international investment law to recalibrate itself towards a more balanced less isolated and increasingly diversified regime The individual chapters of this edited volume address the contents of investment agreements the system of dispute settlement the interrelation of investment agreements with other areas of public international law constitutional questions and new regional perspectives from Europe South Africa the Pacific Rim Region and Latin America Together they provide an invaluable resource for scholars practitioners and policymakers The individual chapters of this edited volume address the contents of investment agreements the system of dispute settlement the interrelation of investment agreements with other areas of public international law constitutional questions and new regional perspectives from Europe South Africa the Pacific Rim Region and Latin America Together they provide an invaluable resource for scholars practitioners and policymakers The Oxford Handbook of Global Health Politics Colin McInnes,Kelley Lee,Jeremy R. Youde,2020

Controlling a major infectious disease outbreak or reducing rising rates of diabetes worldwide is not just about applying medical science Protecting and promoting health is inherently a political endeavor that requires understanding of who gets what where and why The Oxford Handbook of Global Health Politics presents the most comprehensive overview of how and why power lies at the heart of global health determinants and outcomes The chapters are written by internationally recognized experts working at the intersection of politics and global health The wide ranging chapters provide key insights for understanding how advances in global health cannot be achieved without attention to political actors processes and outcomes Impact Investment Funds for Frontier Markets in Southeast Asia Manuel Stagars,2015-05-28 Until now most socially responsible and impact investments have centred on developed markets with growth potential and investment opportunities in the frontier economies of countries such as Cambodia Laos Myanmar and Vietnam being mostly overlooked While some individuals and organizations have begun to develop responsible investment opportunities with these countries in mind large new sources of capital for development could still emerge This book explores the greater potential for global investment in Southeast Asia and the ways in which socially responsible investment styles can be used in their developing economies It demonstrates how the benefits of investment could create a robust platform for separate stakeholders including governments non governmental organizations development banks the financial sector and small and medium sized enterprises The author explores how shaping collaborative sustainable investment policies could speed up inclusive development address the needs of those at the bottom of the pyramid and ensure sustainable future growth

Trade and Labour Standards Anthony Forsyth, 2018-11-21 Mega regional agreements have recently stirred controversy producing a clash between the founding principles of liberalisation and protectionism giving rise to competence issues between the European Union and its Member States Although scholarly work has focused for years on the controversial social clause it is now worth carrying out a detailed legal analysis of the labour standards contained in the mega regional trade agreements adopted and negotiated by the EU and the US The topic gives rise to much controversy as it is influenced by political convictions and election results For this reason it poses one of the most significant challenges to international labour law Based on these considerations this book examines the social dimension of three of the most relevant mega regional trade agreements namely TTP CETA and TTIP It is argued that trade liberalisation should be accompanied by progress in the social and labour field

The Effect of Multinational Enterprises on Climate Change Victor Steenbergen, Abhishek Saurav, 2023-08-07 Multinational enterprises MNEs provide both a fundamental risk to and an opportunity for climate change mitigation The climate ambitions of MNEs will affect the environmental performance of countries around the world As a leading actor proactive MNEs can impose sustainability standards or encourage green technology transfers that in some cases could affect millions of producers and accelerate the climate transition However obstructive MNEs may equally hold back any progress to reduce a country's emissions via inaction or by actively resisting obstructing or lobbying against change The objective of this report is to study the effect of MNEs on climate change Toward this goal the report reviews the latest available data conducts new empirical analysis and summarizes pioneering literature The report answers four key questions related to the relationship between MNEs and climate change 1 What effect do MNEs currently have on climate change both through their own activities and through the emissions of their broader supply chains 2 How do MNEs shape the potential transfer of green technologies to domestic firms and how do different types of interactions with MNEs stimulate such technology transfers 3 How committed are leading MNEs currently to transitioning their supply chains to net zero emissions by 2050 and do they have long medium and short range strategies to realize this 4 What types of policies can influence MNEs effects on climate change The
