The World-Literary System and the Atlantic Sorcha Gunne, Neil Lazarus, 2020-12-18 The World Literary System and the Atlantic grapples with key questions about how American studies and the Atlantic region in general engages with new considerations of literary comparativism international literary space and the world literary system The edited collection furthers these discussions by placing them into a relationship with the theory of combined and uneven development a theory that has a long pedigree in Marxist sociology and political economy and that continues to stimulate debate across the social sciences but whose implications for culture have received less attention Drawing on the comparative modes concepts and methods being developed in the new world literary studies the essays cover a diverse range of topics such as the periodization of world literature racism and the world system singular modernity critical realism commodity frontiers semi peripherality and world ecology The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Atlantic Studies

Studying Transcultural Literary History Gunilla Lindberg-Wada, 2012-03-12 In our globalised world literature is less and less confined to national spaces Europe centred frameworks for literary studies have become insufficient academics are increasingly called upon to address matters of cultural difference In this unique volume leading scholars discuss the critical and methodical challenges that these developments pose to the writing of literary history What is the object of literary history What is the meaning of the term world literature How do we compare different cultural systems of genres How do we account theoretically for literary transculturation What are the implications of postcolonial studies for the discipline of comparative literature Ranging in focus from the Persian epic of Majnun Layla and Zulu praise poetry to South Korean novels and Brazilian antropofagismo the essays offer a concise overview of these and related questions Their aim is not to reach a consensus on these matters They show instead what is at stake in the emergent field of global comparatism Assessing EFL Writing in the 21st Century Arab World Abdelhamid Ahmed, Hassan Abouabdelkader, 2018-02-02 This book empirically explores assessment of EFL English as a Foreign Language writing in different Arab world contexts at the university level which often presents a challenge for teachers and students alike Analysing a number of different practices throughout the chapters including peer assessment self assessment e rubrics and writing coherence the authors highlight different issues and challenges that affect the assessment of EFL writing in the Arab world and provide valuable insights into how it can be improved This book is sure to become an important practical resource for practitioners researchers professors and graduate students working on EFL writing in this region World Literature in Theory David Damrosch, 2014-01-28 World Literature in Theory provides a definitive exploration of the pressing questions facing those studying world literature today Coverage is split into four parts which examine the origins and seminal formulations of world literature world literature in the age of globalization contemporary debates on world literature and localized versions of world literature Contains more than 30 important theoretical essays by the most influential scholars including Johann Wolfgang von Goethe Hugo Meltzl Edward

Said Franco Moretti Jorge Luis Borges and Gayatri Spivak Includes substantive introductions to each essay as well as an annotated bibliography for further reading Allows students to understand articulate and debate the most important issues in this rapidly changing field of study Roberto Schwarz and World Literature Thomas Waller,2024-12-21 First of its kind this essay collection examines the intellectual trajectory of Latin America s foremost literary critic and dialectician underscoring its relevance for contemporary debates on world literature The volume shows how Schwarz s concrete analyses of Brazilian literature and culture offer a theoretical blueprint to understand the literary registration of capitalism s combined and uneven development Exploring concepts such as misplaced ideas objective form and volubility the contributors show how the nuance of Schwarz s interpretive practice can be productively remodelled into a program for world literary studies Throughout the volume Schwarz s unparalleled contributions to cultural theory long neglected in the Anglophone academy are rigorously and creatively debated Roberto Schwarz and World Literature is a primer on literary criticism as concrete practice and an indispensable book for those interested in how literary form mediates social reality Handbook of Anglophone World Literatures Stefan Helgesson,Birgit Neumann,Gabriele Rippl,2020-09-07 Central American Literatures as World Literature Sophie Esch,2023-10-05 Challenging the notion that Central American literature is a marginal space within Latin American literary and world literary production this collection positions and discusses Central American literature within the recently revived debates on world literature This groundbreaking volume draws on new scholarship on global transnational postcolonial translational and sociological perspectives on the region s literature expanding and challenging these debates by focusing on the heterogenous literatures of Central America and its diasporas Contributors discuss poems testimonios novels and short stories in relation to center periphery cosmopolitan and Internationalist paradigms Central American Literatures as World Literature explores the multiple ways in which Central American literature goes beyond or against the confines of the nation state especially through the indigenous Black and migrant voices The Reemergence of World Literature Alfred Owen Aldridge,1986 Argues that the discipline of comparative literature should be expanded to include all of the world not only a favored segment and that translation represents a legitimate and indispensable tool for readers Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge 2008 University of Cambridge,2008-09-25 This is the latest updated edition of the University of Cambridge s official statutes and Ordinances Into Our Labours Neil Lazarus,2022-04-15 Into our Labours explores the literary representation of work across the globe since 1850 setting out to show that the literature of modernity is best understood in the light of the worlding of capitalism The book proposes that a determinative relation exists between changing modes of work and changes in the forms genres and aesthetic strategies of the writing that bears witness to them Two aspects of the worlding of modernity especially are emphasised First an inaugural experience of capitalist social relations whose literary registration sometimes makes itself known through a crisis of representation as the forms of space and time consciousness demanded by life in contexts in which market oriented commodity production has become the dominant form of social labour are counterposed with inherited ways of seeing and knowing now under acute pressure if not already obsolete Second a moment corresponding to the consolidation regularisation and global dispersal of capitalist development Into Our Labours focuses on the naturalisation of capitalist social relations forms of sociality and solidarity ideologies of familialism individualism and work relations between the sexes and the generations Arguing that the only plausible term for the vast body of literary work engendered by the worlding of capitalist social relations is modernist the book proposes that it is then important to challenge the still entrenched Eurocentric understandings of modernism Modernism is neither originally nor paradigmatically Western in provenance and its temporal parameters are much broader than are usually assumed in modernist studies extending both backward and forward in time

Next Generation Course Redesign Philip M. Turner, Ronald S. Carriveau, 2010 There is widespread recognition that large enrollment introductory classes are a significant problem Lack of engagement incongruous learning styles and teaching methods and high failure dropout rates are some of the symptoms The University of North Texas has developed and promulgated a process for redesigning these classes that brings to bear the creativity of the faculty resulting in higher level student learning without increasing instructional costs This groundbreaking book provides the reader with a theoretical foundation for course redesign that employs assessment driven experiential learning and tools and examples to bring all or part of the process to their campus Back cover

World Literature Today, 2001

Literature and the Work of Universality Alice Duhan, Stefan Helgesson, Christina Kullberg, Paul Tenngart, 2024-07-22 In an age of accelerating ecological crises global inequalities and democratic fragility it has become crucial to achieve renewed articulations of human commonality With anchorage in critical theory as well as world literary studies this volume approaches literature and modes of literary thinking as a key resource for such a task Universality is understood here not as an established universalism but as a horizon towards which intellectual inquiry and literary practices orient themselves In the field of world literature there is by now a wide repertoire of epistemological resources through which claims to universality can be both questioned and reconfigured If at one end of the spectrum world literature confronts us with the spectre of homogenisation and the commodification of difference under a regime of global capitalism at another end renewed forms of philological anthropological and ecological attentiveness to the particulars of languages and texts within the crucible of connected histories allow for defamiliarising perspectives both on received historical narratives and aesthetic practices Vernacularity emerges here as a central point of reference for constructing the universal from within the particular the idiomatic and the experiences of social subordination or complicity
