

Homework Questions 1

How effective was the Treaty of Commerce?

The Treaty of Commerce, was the treaty that ended host years of fighting in 1804 after 11. The Treaty was signed by Germany and the United States on June 25, 1804, formally ending World War One. The treaty, at the time, required that Germany pay financial reparations, soldiers, and territory, and give up all of the overseas colonies. At the time it was a significant ending after 11 after 11 but it brought war to the doors of Germany ending World War 1 20 years later.

Homework Questions 2

Choose two of the historians and explain their points of view and what they said

Mr. Max Hastings- military historian

Hastings perspective is that Germany started World War 1. Hastings says that he doesn't believe that Britain, Russia or France started WW1 and that Germany is the only one that should be held accountable. His argument is that Germany started only country with that power to start a war in July 1914 by attacking the British empire and support for America's involvement in Europe.

Dr. Richard J. Evans- English politician and historian, University of Cambridge

J Evans perspective is that Britain is responsible for starting World War 1. His argument is that because of British imperialism and its policies, other European countries feared this attempt and this could be made as well as World War 1. Also, the explosion from the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, made the other countries join in the war and they all started by in Britain.
