Organizations at War in Afghanistan and Beyond Abdulkader H. Sinno, 2008 While popular accounts of warfare particularly of nontraditional conflicts such as guerrilla wars and insurgencies favor the roles of leaders or ideology social scientific analyses of these wars focus on aggregate categories such as ethnic groups religious affiliations socioeconomic classes or civilizations Challenging these constructions Abdulkader H Sinno closely examines the fortunes of the various factions in Afghanistan including the mujahideen and the Taliban that have been fighting each other and foreign armies since the 1979 Soviet invasion Focusing on the organization of the combatants Sinno offers a new understanding of the course and outcome of such conflicts Employing a wide range of sources including his own fieldwork in Afghanistan and statistical data on conflicts across the region Sinno contends that in Afghanistan the groups that have outperformed and outlasted their opponents have done so because of their successful organization Each organization's ability to mobilize effectively execute strategy coordinate efforts manage disunity and process information depends on how well its structure matches its ability to keep its rivals at bay Centralized organizations Sinno finds are generally more effective than noncentralized ones but noncentralized ones are more resilient absent a safe haven Sinno's organizational theory explains otherwise puzzling behavior found in group conflicts the longevity of unpopular regimes the demise of popular movements and efforts of those who share a common cause to undermine their ideological or ethnic kin The author argues that the organizational theory applies not only to Afghanistan where he doubts the effectiveness of American state

The Wind and Beyond ,2003 Summoning the Powers Beyond Jay Dobbin,Francis X. Hezel,2011-09-30 Summoning the Powers Beyond collects and reconstructs the old religions of preindustrial Micronesia It draws mostly from written sources from the turn of the nineteenth century and the period immediately after World War II reports of the Hamburg South Sea Expedition of 1908 1910 articles by German Roman Catholic missionaries in Micronesia included in the journal Anthropos and reports by the Coordinated Investigation of Micronesian Anthropology CIMA and the American Board of Commissioners of the Foreign Missions ABCFM A detailed introduction and an overview of Micronesian religion are followed by separate chapters detailing religion in the Chuukic speaking islands Pohnpei Kosrae the Marshall Islands Yap Palau Kiribati and Nauru The Chamorro speaking group of the Marianas is omitted because lengthy periods of intense military and missionary activity eradicated most of the local religion The Polynesian outliers Nukuoro and Kapingamarangi are discussed at the end primarily to underscore the contrasts between Polynesian and Micronesian religion In a concluding chapter the author highlights the similarities and differences between the areas within Micronesia and then attempts an appreciation or evaluation of Micronesia religion Finally he addresses the evidence of a tentative hypothesis that Micronesian religion is sufficiently different from that of Polynesia and Melanesia to justify the continued claim of a separate Micronesian religion
