Congress. House. Committee on Financial Services,2009 Report on the Activity of the Committee on Financial Services for the 110th Congress, January 2, 2009, 110-2 House Report 110-929 ,2009 The Global Victimization of Children

Clayton A. Hartjen,S. Priyadarsini,2012-01-02 This book describes the concept of child victimization in all its facets Millions of young people throughout the world face violence sexual physical and emotional abuse and exploitation on a daily basis The worldwide victimization of young people can be prevented or at least its incidence can be greatly reduced if purposeful action is taken to do so This volume researches and documents some of the ways in which young people throughout the world are victimized and suggests strategies for preventing various forms of child victimization Eight distinct forms of victimization are identified and analyzed in detail Included are discussions on child prostitution and pornography economic exploitation through child labor and trafficking physical and other abuse inflicted on young people in schools and other institutions the use of children as armed combatants and the denial of the basic needs and rights of children to such things as home and to education In each chapter the authors discuss the nature of the victimization its global dimensions and prevalence and the measures governments and or others are taking or failing to take to combat the harm based on the concept that youth victimization is a form of government crime Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report ,2005 Leadership in Science and Technology: A Reference Handbook William Sims Bainbridge,2011-10-20 Tackling 100 key topics and providing case studies in the area of science and technology leadership this reference handbook is an essential resource for students in this area

To Reform the World Guy Fiti Sinclair,2017-03-02 This book explores how international organizations IOs have expanded their powers over time without formally amending their founding treaties IOs intervene in military financial economic political social and cultural affairs and increasingly take on roles not explicitly assigned to them by law Sinclair contends that this mission creep has allowed IOs to intervene internationally in a way that has allowed them to recast institutions within and interactions among states societies and peoples on a broadly Western liberal model Adopting a historical and interdisciplinary socio legal approach Sinclair supports this claim through detailed investigations of historical episodes involving three very different organizations the International Labour Organization in the interwar period the United Nations in the two decades following the Second World War and the World Bank from the 1950s through to the 1990s The book draws on a wide range of original institutional and archival materials bringing to light little known aspects of each organization s activities identifying continuities in the ideas and practices of international governance across the twentieth century and speaking to a range of pressing theoretical questions in present day international law and international relations

UN Intervention Practices in Iraq Kerstin Eppert, 2019-01-17 This book analyzes UN intervention discourses and practices in Iraq and develops a deconstructive approach to international interventions Hitherto most analyses of the conflict in Iraq in 2003 have established the UN's role as path dependent on the foreign policy of the US and the UK and largely portrayed it as a mediator and fervent opponent of international intervention Analyzing the UN Security Council and the later UN Assistance Mission for Iraq UNAMI from 2000 to 2010 this book undoes this path dependency and puts the UN's relationship with Iraq center stage It develops a deconstructive critical approach that identifies subject construction and reflexivity as central processes of intervention practices and concludes that non intervention is deeply connected to the stabilization of political identities and representations Using extensive primary data the book contributes a new perspective on international interventions This book will be of much interest to students of peace and conflict studies intervention and statebuilding Middle Eastern studies and International Relations

The Cultural and Political Economy of Recovery Emily Chamlee-Wright, 2010-03-03 In August 2005 the nation watched as Hurricane Katrina pummelled the Gulf Coast Residents did not just suffer the personal costs of a home that had been severely damaged or destroyed frequently they also lost their entire neighbourhood and the social systems that under normal circumstances made their lives work Katrina raised the questions of whether and how communities could solve the complex social coordination problems catastrophic disaster poses and what inhibits them from doing so Professor Chamlee Wright investigates not only the nature of post disaster recovery but the nature of the social order itself how societies are able to achieve a level of complex social coordination that far exceeds our ability to design By deploying the tools of both political economy and cultural economy the book contributes to the burgeoning literature on the social political and economic impact of Hurricane Katrina Through a selection of case studies the author argues that post disaster resilience depends crucially upon the discovery that unfolds within commercial and civil society The book will be of particular interest to postgraduate students and researchers in economics sociology and anthropology as well as disaster specialists

Revisiting Targeting in Social Assistance Margaret Grosh, Phillippe Leite, Matthew Wai-Poi, Emil Tesliuc, 2022-06-02 Targeting is a commonly used but much debated policy tool within global social assistance practice Revisiting Targeting in Social Assistance A New Look at Old Dilemmas examines the well known dilemmas in light of the growing body of experience new implementation capacities and the potential to bring new data and data science to bear The book begins by considering why or whether or how narrowly or broadly to target different parts of social assistance and updates the global empirics around the outcomes and costs of targeting It illustrates the choices that must be made in moving from an abstract vision to implementable definitions and procedures and in deciding how the choices should be informed by values empirics and context The importance of delivery systems and processes to distributional outcomes are emphasized and many facets with room for improvement are discussed The book also explores the choices between targeting methods and how differences in purposes and contexts shape those The know how with respect to the data and inference used by the different household specific targeting methods is summarized and comprehensively updated including a focus on big data and machine learning A primer on measurement issues is included Key findings include the following Targeting selected categories families or individuals plays a valuable role within the framework of universal social protection Measuring the accuracy and cost of targeting can be done in many ways and judicious choices require a range of metrics Weighing the relatively low costs of targeting against the potential gains is important Implementing inclusive delivery systems is critical for reducing errors of exclusion and inclusion Selecting and customizing the appropriate targeting method depends on purpose and context there is no method preferred in all circumstances Leveraging advances in technology ICT big data artificial intelligence machine learning can improve targeting accuracy but they are not a panacea better data matters more than sophistication in inference Targeting social protection should be a dynamic process
