World Wealth Report 2002:

Personal Wealth from a Global Perspective James B. Davies, 2008-11-13 This book provides the first study of personal wealth from a global viewpoint Previous international studies of wealth have focused on the rich countries Here the transition countries emerging economies and the developing world are examined too The book looks at wealth inequality and asset composition around the world showing how these are affected by history institutions gender and incomes There is a dramatic contrast between rich countries where financial assets are so important and poor countries where farm assets and land still dominate The book shows that wealth inequality within countries is far higher than that of income and has been rising recently most notably in Russia China and other transition countries Concentration among the rich and super rich has also increased Worldwide the top 2% have about 50% of personal wealth and the top 10% have 85% In contrast the bottom half has just 1% Poor countries are even poorer in wealth than in income terms But these are just the countries where life is most insecure and personal assets are most needed The book concludes that steps must be taken to break down barriers and help the poor and middle class in low income countries build up their personal assets to overcome their wealth disadvantage and serving as the legal home of two million corporate entities and half of all international lending banks tax havens also skew the distribution of globalization's costs and benefits to the detriment of developing economies The first comprehensive account of these entities this book challenges much of the conventional wisdom about tax havens The authors reveal that rather than operating at the margins of the world economy tax havens are integral to it More than simple conduits for tax avoidance and evasion tax havens actually belong to the broad world of finance to the business of managing the monetary resources of individuals organizations and countries They have become among the most powerful instruments of globalization one of the principal causes of global financial instability and one of the large political issues of our times

The book is based on a strong link between a rigorous methodological approach and the real world best practices of wealth management. A Nation of Millionaires Karl Gittelman, 2013-11. The book A Nation of Millionaires evolved out of Dr. Gittelman's famous Millionaires class in which he taught high school students how they could become millionaires using the powerful tools of long term investing. This book details how every young person in America can achieve wealth if they only understand the power of compound rates of return, stock market investing and time. With great detail it shows exactly how, when and where everyone can achieve amazing returns on modest investments over long periods of time. Anthropology and Contemporary Human Problems John H. Bodley, 2012-04-12. We live in a time of global mega problems of unsustainable growth and consumption, resource depletion, ecosystem degradation, global warming, escalating energy costs, poverty and conflict. Cultural anthropologist John H. Bodley trenchantly critiques these most pressing issues and shows how anthropology makes it possible to find solutions. The focus on culture scale suggests that many solutions may be found by developing local communities supported by regional markets and ecosystems rather than by making the continuous accumulation of financial capital the dominant cultural process throughout the world. Now in its sixth edition, this classic textbook continues to have tremendous relevance and is more timely than ever in light of the recent global economic crisis. It exposes readers to the problems of a world out of balance with misdirected growth by the elite. Bodley offers examples from prehistoric and modern tribal societies along side of ancient imperial and contemporary commercial societies. Students will find this to be the trusted source to build a world view. Anthropology and Contemporary Human Problems is ideal for adoption in anthropology and sociology courses on globalization, cultural ecology, social class and inequality, the environment, sustainability and development. The Welfare State in Post-Industrial Society Jason L. Powell, Jon Hendricks, 2009-06-10. In recent years major social forces such as ageing populations, social trends, migration patterns and the globalization of economies have reshaped social welfare policies and practices across the globe. Multinational corporations, NGOs and other international organizations have begun to influence social policy at a national and local level. Among the many ramifications of these changes is that globalizing influences may hinder the ability of individual nation states to effect policies that are beneficial to them on a local level. With contributions from thirteen countries worldwide, this collected work represents the first major comparative analysis on the effect of globalization on the international welfare state. The Welfare State in Post Industrial Society is divided into two major sections: the first draws from a number of leading social welfare researchers from diverse countries who point to the nation state as case studies highlighting how it goes about establishing and revising social welfare provisions. The second portion of the volume then moves to a more global perspective in its analysis and questioning of the impact of globalization on citizenship ageing and marketization The Welfare State in Post Industrial Society seeks to encourage debate about the implications of the most pressing social welfare issues in nation states and integrate analyses of policy and practice in particular countries struggling to provide social welfare support for their needy populations

Africa's Odious Debts Professor Léonce Ndikumana, James K. Boyce, 2011-10-13 In Africa's Odious Debts Boyce and Ndikumana reveal the shocking fact that contrary to the popular perception of Africa being a drain on the financial resources of the West the continent is actually a net creditor to the rest of the world The extent of capital flight from sub Saharan Africa is remarkable more than 700 billion in the past four decades But Africa's foreign assets remain private and hidden while its foreign debts are public owed by the people of Africa through their governments Léonce Ndikumana and James K. Boyce reveal the intimate links between foreign loans and capital flight Of the money borrowed by African governments in recent decades more than half departed in the same year with a significant portion of it winding up in private accounts at the very banks that provided the loans in the first place Meanwhile debt service payments continue to drain scarce resources from Africa cutting into funds available for public health and other needs Controversially the authors argue that African governments should repudiate these odious debts from which their people derived no benefit and that the international community should assist in this effort A vital book for anyone interested in Africa its future and its relationship with the West

Critically Capitalist Bohyeong Kim, 2025-01-15 Critically Capitalist presents an ethnography of South Korea's asset seekers including amateur stock investors real estate enthusiasts and money coaches to demonstrate how financialized asset capitalism is sustained As they hunt for profit margins rent and dividends they simultaneously critique capitalism and posit their pursuit of assets as a form of resistance Bohyeong Kim theorizes this new spirit of capitalism in South Korea as critical capitalism arguing that it reflects the popular discontent with both national development and financial neoliberalism As a paradoxical critique and legitimation Bohyeong Kim argues that critical capitalism valorizes the capitalist economy not through a triumphant narrative but by highlighting the emotional wounds destroyed communities and oppressive tactics of modern capitalism Drawing on multi-sited ethnography and in-depth interviews with a broad community of aspiring millionaires Critically Capitalist illuminates how contemporary capitalism thrives by channeling discontent into financial and real estate markets which in turn has cemented critical capitalism as the cultural and affective backbone of South Korea's economy

Der Band beschäftigt sich mit der Analyse von Kinderarmut und Reichtumsverhältnissen hinsichtlich demografischer Probleme, dem Verhältnis zwischen den Generationen, zwischen Eltern und Kinderlosen sowie Familien und dem Sozialstaat. Es wird untersucht, was geschieht, wenn soziale Fragen und Probleme in demografische, generationenspezifische und familienpolitische Konfliktlinien umgedeutet werden. Als ein Ergebnis der Studie ist zu erkennen, dass mittels Rekurrerung auf Demografie, Generationengerechtigkeit, Nachhaltigkeit und Familienausbeutung soziale Ungleichheitsstrukturen innerhalb von Bevölkerungsentwicklungen, Generationenverhältnissen sowie zwischen und innerhalb von Familien ausgeblendet werden.

Who Owns the World Kevin Cahill, 2006. Who Owns the World is the first ever compilation of landowners and landownership structures in every single one of the world's 191 states and 41 territories. The book is divided into two parts: the first covers the history of landownership as far as written history will allow, while the second shows the division of landownership in every region of the world, packed with revelatory information. The book identifies the person who owns the largest proportion of the world's land and documents their landholdings; provides details of the next 50 top landowners and lists the next 1,000 thereafter; reveals the 100 most prominent aristocratic families who own over 60 per cent of Europe's land mass and who receive most of the EC's agricultural subsidy allowance; documents the vast landholdings of the four largest religious groups: the Catholic Church and the other Christian churches, the Islamic trusts and the temple possessions of the Hindus and Buddhists; details in a special individual section the lands owned by the British Commonwealth; contains a complete survey of the historic record of landownership starting in Mesopotamia, Iraq, in 8,000 BC; lists many of the world's International Handbook of Globalization and World Cities Ben Derudder, 2012-02-01. This Handbook offers an unrivalled overview of current research into how globalization is affecting the external relations and internal structures of major cities in the world. By treating cities at a global scale, it focuses on the stretching of urban functions beyond specific place locations without losing sight of the multiple divisions in contemporary world cities. The book firmly bases city networks in their historical context, critically discusses contemporary concepts and key empirical measures and analyses major issues relating to world city infrastructures, economies, governance and divisions. The variety of urban outcomes in contemporary globalization is explored through detailed case studies. Edited by leading scholars of the Globalization and World Cities GaWC Research Network and written by over 60 experts in the field, the Handbook is a unique resource for students, researchers and academics in urban and globalization studies as well as for city professionals in planning and policy
