Linguistic Landscapes Jeffrey L. Kallen, 2023-06-22 Visible language is widespread and familiar in everyday life We find it in shop signs advertising billboards street and place name signs commercial logos and slogans and visual arts The field of linguistic landscapes draws on insights from sociolinguistics language policy and semiotics to show how these public forms of language relate to multiple issues in language policy language rights language and education language and culture and globalization Stretching from the earliest stone inscriptions to posters and street signs and to today's electronic media linguistic landscapes sit at the crossroads of language society geography and visual communication Written by one of the pioneers of the field this is the first book length synthesis of this exciting rapidly developing field Using photographic evidence from across three continents it demonstrates the methodology and approaches used and summarises its findings and developments so far It also seeks to answer common questions from its critics and to suggest new directions for further study

Aging and Adult Development in the Developing World Frank E. Eyetsemitan, James T. Gire, 2003-02-28 Most studies of human development in developing societies have focused on the childhood stage and in a few cases exploration has extended up to adolescence since this age group represents about half the population in developing societies The developed world however is experiencing a surge in the elderly population and this has spurred its study There is growing recognition that studies are needed in order to understand aging in all contexts and to discover how the experience may differ in developing and developed societies In this book the authors discuss the appropriateness or inappropriateness of applying Western theories and perspectives to studies of aging in the developing world The present study critically examines the major theories in the area of aging and adult development covering such domains as the physical psychological and social aspects of aging death and dying and social and public policies Applying the concepts of individualism and collectivism as well as the global and environmental dimensions of the developing world the authors have earmarked the theories that seem suitable only to the developed world and those that appear to be universally relevant

Language Discordant Social Work in a Multilingual World Hilde Fiva Buzungu, 2023-04-21 Based on ethnographic observations of encounters between social workers and people with whom they do not have a shared language this book analyzes the impact of language discordance on the quality of professional service provision Exploring how street level bureaucrats navigate the landscape of these discretionary assessments of language discordance language proficiency and the need for interpreting the book focuses on four main themes the complexity of social work talk the issue of participation in language discordant meetings communicative interaction the issue of how clarification is requested when needed and whether professionals and service users are able to reach clarity when something is unclear Based on the findings presented on these different aspects of language discordant talk the consequences of language discordance for social work are presented and discussed focusing primarily on issues at the intersection of language communication power dominance and subordination representation

linguicism and ultimately human rights and human dignity It will be of interest to all social work students academics and professionals as well as those working in public services and allied health more broadly

Gussak,Marcia L. Rosal,2016-01-19 The Wiley Handbook of Art Therapy is a collection of original internationally diverse essays that provides unsurpassed breadth and depth of coverage of the subject The most comprehensive art therapy book in the field exploring a wide range of themes A unique collection of the current and innovative clinical theoretical and research approaches in the field Cutting edge in its content the handbook includes the very latest trends in the subject and in depth accounts of the advances in the art therapy arena Edited by two highly renowned and respected academics in the field with a stellar list of global contributors including Judy Rubin Vija Lusebrink Selma Ciornai Maria d Ella and Jill Westwood Part of the Wiley Handbooks in Clinical Psychology series Quest for World-Class Teacher Education? Jun Li,2016-07-25 Utilizing a case study method and a Multiperspectival Approach this volume presents a pioneering in depth study about China s teacher education policy since the 1990s It critically investigates the rational dynamic and complex implementation process taking place at the micro institutional level for the transformations of teacher education institutions The book first introduces the sociopolitical and cultural background of China s teacher education system and its challenges under the condition of globalization and illustrates major national initiatives for nurturing highly qualified teachers. It then explores new teachers' identities in an era of enhanced professionalism, uncovers the ways they reflect China's teacher education reform, and distills the rationales behind these policy actions. This is followed by an analytic presentation of the findings of the case study of a provincial normal university with a particular focus on such core pieces of the implementation jigsaw as policy flow, the dynamism of implementation, sociopolitical and cultural confluence, and institutional barriers in the complex process. Lastly, the book unravels key recommendations and implications for policy implementation studies from the China policy case and constructs a Chinese Zhong Yong Model of policy implementation and sheds new light on policy studies of teacher education reform in particular and public policy in general, which may be transferable to other sociopolitical contexts seeking to nurture world class teachers and achieve educational excellence in a global age.

Media, Family Interaction and the Digitalization of Childhood Anja Riitta Lahikainen, Tiina Mälikä, Katja Repo, 2017-09-29. This is a first class repository of new knowledge on how media and family routines intertwine in daily interactions. The multi method approach reveals how varying forms of media affect the interaction between children and their parents. Avoiding criticism of these interactions, the contributors instead offer an impartial view of the natural occurrences in media related family life.

Relationship-Based Research in Social Work Gillian Ruch, Ilse Julkunen, 2016-03-21. Relationship based research is founded on the idea that human relationships are of paramount importance and should be central to social work research and practice. Drawing on psychodynamic and systemic understandings of research and practice, this book offers practitioners and academics an insight into what constitutes relationship based approaches to research. These ideas are brought to life by illustrative case studies of research projects carried out in England and Finland where the concept originated. The authors clearly demonstrate how this approach can be applied across the social work sector and provide a model for practice. This will be a key reference for social work students, practitioners on post qualifying courses, research students and consultants, and senior practitioners, social workers promoting research informed practice.

Pediatric Anxiety Disorders Roma A. Vasa, Amy Krain Roy, 2014-07-08. Over the past decade, significant advances in research methodology have stimulated dramatic progress in the field of child psychiatry in general and in pediatric anxiety disorders more specifically. Pediatric Anxiety Disorders: A Clinical Guide is a comprehensive and vital addition to the literature at an exciting time in the field of psychiatry. This state of the art reference aims to bridge the most up to date research findings with relevant clinical perspectives, making it a unique and essential resource for established clinicians and researchers as well as for students and trainees. The book is organized into four sections, each of which includes chapters on a specific area of interest. The first section reviews the current research regarding etiological mechanisms of pediatric anxiety. The second section provides in depth descriptions of the anxiety disorders that affect children and adolescents. The third section summarizes the literature on empirically supported assessment tools and evidence based cognitive behavioral and pharmacological interventions. Of special practical note, the authors of these chapters have included comprehensive summary tables that can serve as quick reference tools The final section of the text is dedicated to understanding how anxiety manifests in two special populations children with chronic medical illnesses and those with autism spectrum disorders Pediatric Anxiety Disorders A Clinical Guide is an authoritative new volume developed by a renowned collection of clinicians and researchers in the field of childhood anxiety disorders
