World Architecture Cross Cultural History:

World Architecture Richard Ingersoll, 2018 World Architecture provides the most comprehensive and contemporary survey of the field Each chapter is organized chronologically and focuses on three unique architectural cultures simultaneously providing instructors with flexibility and offering students a comprehensive method for understanding and appreciating the history cultural significance beauty and diversity of architecture from around the world , The Bloomsbury Handbook of World Theory Jeffrey R. Di Leo, Christian Moraru, 2021-11-18 Disciplines from literary studies to environmentalism have recently undergone a spectacular reorientation that has refocused entire fields methodologies and vocabularies on the world and its sister terms such as globe planet and earth The Bloomsbury Handbook of World Theory examines what world means and what it accomplishes in different zones of academic study The contributors raise questions such as What happens when world is appended to a particular form of humanistic or scientific inquiry How exactly does worlding bear on the theoretical operating system and the history of that field What is the theory or theoretical model that allows world to function in a meaningful way in coordination with that knowledge domain With contributions from 38 leading theorists from a vast range of fields including queer studies religion and pop culture this is the first large reference work to consider the profound effect both within and outside the academy of the worlding of discourse in the 21st century World Architecture and Society Peter Louis Bonfitto, 2021-12-06 This two volume encyclopedia covers buildings and sites of global significance from prehistoric times to the present day providing students with an essential understanding of architectural development and its impact on human societies This two volume encyclopedia provides an in depth look at buildings and sites of global significance throughout history The volumes are separated into four regional sections 1 the Americas 2 Europe 3 Africa and the Middle East and 4 Asia and the Pacific Four regional essays investigate the broader stylistic and historical contexts that describe the development of architecture through time and across the globe Entries explore the unique importance of buildings and sites including the megalithic wonder of Stonehenge and the imposing complex of Angkor Wat Entries on Spanish colonial missions in the Americas and the medieval Islamic universities of the Sahara connect to broader building traditions Other entries highlight remarkable stories of architectural achievement and memory like those of Tuskegee University a site hand built by former slaves or the Hiroshima Peace Memorial Park which was built at the site of the atomic detonation Each entry focuses on the architectural but includes strong consideration of the social impact importance and significance each structure has had in the past and in the present A Cross-Cultural History of Britain and Belgium, 1815-1918 Marysa Demoor, 2022-03-21 This book highlights the ways in which Britain and Belgium became culturally entangled as a result of their interaction in the period between the Napoleonic Wars and the First World War In the course of the nineteenth century the battlefields of Waterloo and Ypres in Belgium became veritable burial grounds for generations of dead British military indirectly leading to the most intensive ties between the two countries By exploring this twofold path the author uncovers a series of cross influences and creative similarities within the Belgo British artistic community and explores the background against which the British national identity was constructed Revealing unknown links between some of the most famous artists on both sides of the channel such as D G Rossetti and Jan Van Eyck Christina Rossetti and Fernand Khnopff John Millais and Pieter Breughel and Lewis Carroll and Quentin Massys the book emphasises an artistic cross fertilisation that can be found within battlefield literature throughout the nineteenth century including examples from the likes of William M Thackeray Frances Trollope and Charlotte Bront Providing a rich intercultural history of Belgo British relations after the battle of Waterloo this interdisciplinary book will appeal to scholars and students researching history literature art and cultural studies The Case for the Humanities Eric Touya de Marenne,2016-12-01

Countering the perception that the humanities are unessential this volume contends that their well being has not only academic but also cultural political and existential ramifications Our technologically driven world possesses the means of its own destruction while economic and financial policies undermine the very existence of our democracy At the same time the postmodern and post human age fundamentally challenges our ability and legitimacy to conceive future ideals It is within this context that the humanities provide essential paths through which the teaching and knowledge of other academic fields such as STEM and economics must be re envisioned In short the humanities must be brought back to the center of academic life The political and pedagogical implications of this interdisciplinary study thus entail a renewed critique to rethink the relation between higher education society and the world at large politically economically scientifically and technologically and the importance of the humanities within it At the heart of this reconsideration the humanities and humanity s fate and future become one White Supremacy, Settler Colonialism, Modernist Architecture, and Contemporary Preservation Robert Flahive,2025-06-27

This book examines the afterlives of the built environment produced through early 20th century settler colonialism The author analyzes contemporary architectural preservationists narrative strategies to remake what were designed as racialized European zones in opposition to Indigenous zones as white cities through the documentation preservation and addition to the UNESCO World Heritage List This book interrogates the fashioning of white cities through ethnographic methods with local architectural preservationists and primary sources such as World Heritage Committee meeting notes and World Heritage List nomination files and inscription materials in the preservation of built form in Asmara Bras lia Casablanca Rabat and Tel Aviv The book is aimed at scholars and students interested in the politics of the built environment spatial politics urban studies architectural history international relations urban geopolitics settler colonialism international organizations and the politics of commemoration Making Sense of Health, Disease, and the Environment in Cross-Cultural History: The Arabic-Islamic World, China, Europe, and North America Florence Bretelle-Establet,Marie Gaille,Mehrnaz Katouzian-Safadi,2020-01-01

This book has been defined around three important issues the first sheds light on how people in various philosophical religious and political contexts understand the natural environment and how the relationship between the environment and the body is perceived the second focuses on the perceptions that a particular natural environment is good or bad for human health and examines the reasons behind such characterizations the third examines the promotion in history of specific practices to take advantage of the health benefits or avoid the harm caused by certain environments and also efforts made to change environments supposed to be harmful to human health The feeling and or the observation that the natural environment can have effects on human health have been and are still commonly shared throughout the world This led us to raise the issue of the links observed and believed to exist between human beings and the natural environment in a broad chronological and geographical framework In this investigation we bring the reader from ancient and late imperial China to the medieval Arab world up to medieval modern and contemporary Europe This book does not examine these relationships through the prism of the knowledge of our modern contemporary European experience which still too often leads to the feeling of totally different worlds Rather it questions protagonists who in different times and in different places have reflected on their own terms on the links between environment and health and tries to obtain a better understanding of why these links took the form they did in these precise contexts This book targets an academic readership as well as an informed audience for whom present issues of environment and health can be nourished by the reflections of the past

Spatial Theories for the Americas Fernando Luiz Lara, 2024-11-19 To study the built environment of the Americas is to wrestle with an inherent contradiction While the disciplines of architecture urban design landscape and planning share the fundamental belief that space and place matter the overwhelming majority of canonical knowledge and the vernacular used to describe these disciplines comes from another very different continent With this book Fernando Luiz Lara discusses several theories of space drawing on cartography geography anthropology and mostly architecture and proposes counterweights to five centuries of Eurocentrism The first part of Spatial Theories for the Americas offers a critique of Eurocentrism in the discipline of architecture problematizing its theoretical foundation in relation to the inseparability of modernization and colonization The second part makes explicit the insufficiencies of a hegemonic Western tradition at the core of spatial theories by discussing a long list of authors who have thought about the Americas To overcome centuries of Eurocentrism Lara concludes will require a tremendous effort but nonetheless we have the responsibility of looking at the built environment of the Americas through our own lenses Spatial Theories for the Americas proposes a fundamental step in that direction

The Routledge Handbook of Urban Studies in Latin America and the Caribbean Jesús M. González-Pérez, Clara Irazábal, Rubén C.
