

Help Fight World Hunger

Introduction

According to an article written in 2012 by Krista Larson, a writer for News hub writes, 'It's 10am, and the 2-year-old is still waiting for breakfast. Aliou Seyni Diallo collapses to his knees in tears and plops his forehead down on the dirt outside his family's hut. Soon he is wailing inconsolably and writhing on his back in the sand. A neighbor spot him, picks him up easily by one arm, and gives him a little uncooked millet in a metal bowl. The toddler shovels it into his mouth with sticky fingers coated in tears and grime.

The crying stops, for the moment'. Today I want to inform to you guys about how big of an issue the world hunger has become and how our small donation could change the lives of so many. I have lived in a place where hunger did affect many lives and also researched it on articles and other reliable sources. We can only live without food for few days but imagine the millions out there who are trying so hard just to get that one-time meal. So, in the name of humanity, let's put ourselves in their shoes and just try to imagine how different and disconsolate their life is from ours.

Hunger is becoming a major global problem and it's causing some serious health concerns. All the below information shows how hunger is causing some serious life-threatening problems. According to the State of Food Insecurity in the World 2014 External Link (.pdf), published by the U.N.'s Food and Agriculture Organization, International Fund for Agricultural Development, and the World Food Program, the number of undernourished people in the world is 805million, or one in nine.

Hunger is also causing high infant mortality rate. World hunger facts on their website published on 2012 states that 'Malnourished women are more likely to be sick, have smaller babies and die earlier, resulting in high levels of infant mortality in areas where chronic hunger is a problem. And where infant and child mortality is high, birth rates are also high, locking these communities in a vicious cycle of malnutrition and death'. Connective: Although hunger is causing some serious problems around the globe, there are still many solutions to help reduce the increasing number.

We as a people need to step up and take some serious action against the world hunger from increasing. We need to aware people about the causes and effects of world hunger. Jacques Lecarte on the 'European Parliamentary Research' in November 2014 writes, 'Service A recent policy brief from the International Food Policy Research Institute highlights the need for a comprehensive strategy for resolving the problem, which must include concrete actions, improvements in national incomes and democracy, increased resources and political will to invest in health environments, women's education and status, and food availability.

We need to educate people about how a simple meal we waste every day could be saving someone's life.

Cyclopedia of World Authors Frank Northern Magill, 1997 Independent Scholars Meet the World Christine Caccipuoti, Elizabeth Keohane-Burbridge, 2020-10-16 For too long graduate school was viewed solely as a pipeline to teaching positions at colleges and universities As MAs and PhDs proliferate and opportunities in the academy narrow this timely book reminds us that the academy is only one of many venues for satisfying and successful scholarly endeavor The contributors to

Independent Scholars Meet the World represent a spectrum of graduate school experiences from leaving midprogram to completing an MA or PhD They include those who sought nontraditional paths and others who started in the familiar professorial direction only to change course Ultimately they are independent scholars contributing to their fields but working outside the academy Their stories illustrate the variety of options that exist beyond the university setting from museum education and high school teaching to newer professions like podcasting and creating historical coloring books These scholars impart advice about encountering difficulties overcoming challenges and learning to adapt to changing circumstances All have something to share that the graduating scholar and those who guide them ought to hear about cultivating networks viewing departure from familiar terrain as an option not a failure and understanding the real value that an independent scholar brings to any number of situations Perhaps the most important lesson this book offers is for those steeped in the belief that the only right way to be a scholar is as a tenured professor and how therefore to embrace the label independent scholar The contributors to Independent Scholars Meet the World offer the advice and encouragement they wish they d received when heading into uncharted postgraduate territory They demonstrate that success awaits the determined and resourceful scholar pursuing a different path towards expanded ac

How Stella Learned to Talk Christina Hunger,2021-05-04 INSTANT NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER An incredible revolutionary true story and surprisingly simple guide to teaching your dog to talk from speech language pathologist Christina Hunger who has taught her dog Stella to communicate using simple paw sized buttons associated with different words When speech language pathologist Christina Hunger first came home with her puppy Stella it didn t take long for her to start drawing connections between her job and her new pet During the day she worked with toddlers with significant delays in language development and used Augmentative and Alternative Communication AAC devices to help them communicate At night she wondered If dogs can understand words we say to them shouldn t they be able to say words to us Can dogs use AAC to communicate with humans Christina decided to put her theory to the test with Stella and started using a paw sized button programmed with her voice to say the word outside when clicked whenever she took Stella out of the house A few years later Stella now has a bank of more than thirty word buttons and uses them daily either individually or together to create near complete sentences How Stella Learned to Talk is part memoir and part how to guide It chronicles the journey Christina and Stella have taken together from the day they met to the day Stella spoke her first word and the other breakthroughs they've had since. It also reveals the techniques Christina used to teach Stella broken down into simple stages and actionable steps any dog owner can use to start communicating with their pets. Filled with conversations that Stella and Christina have had as well as the attention to developmental detail that only a speech language pathologist could know, How Stella Learned to Talk will be the indispensable dog book for the new decade. — Brody's Guide to the College Admissions Essay Jay Brody, 2005-05 Brody's Guide to the College Admissions Essay tells you everything you need to know about the application essay writing process. Unlike competing books which dwell on the details of grammar and writing procedure, Brody's guide is short, easy to use, and focuses on the most important issues. Special attention is paid to choosing a topic, making the essay interesting, distinguishing yourself as an applicant, and injecting passion into your writing. Additionally, the book includes and discusses seven first-rate and successful admissions essays. The authors, both of whom work full-time with applicants, have spent countless hours helping with admissions essays and speaking with current and former college admissions officers. Here they've taken everything they know about the process and distilled it into one insightful and surprisingly usable guide. — Futuristic and Linguistic Perspectives on Teaching Writing to Second Language Students Hancı-Azizoglu, Eda Başak, Kavaklı, Nurdan, 2020-12-11 The aptitude to write well is increasingly becoming a vital element that students need to succeed in college and their future careers. Students must be equipped with competent writing skills as colleges and jobs base the acceptance of students and workers on the quality of their writing. This situation captures the complexity of the fact that writing represents higher intellectual skills and leads to a higher rate of selection. Therefore, it is imperative that the best strategies for teaching writing to speakers of other languages be imparted to provide insights to teachers who can better prepare their students for future accomplishments. Futuristic and Linguistic Perspectives on Teaching Writing to Second Language Students examines the theoretical and practical implications that should be put in place for second language writers and offers critical futuristic and linguistic perspectives on teaching writing to speakers of other languages. Highlighting such topics as EFL/ESL composition, digital storytelling, and forming identity, this book is ideal for second language teachers and writing instructors as well as academicians, professionals, researchers, and students working in the field of language and linguistics. — The MBA Reality Check Evan Forster, David St. John Thomas, 2010-04-06 A no-nonsense guide to getting into business school at a time when the industry requirements are evolving and competition is at a record level. MBA programs are redefining their mission and seeking a new generation of business visionaries. No longer simply about grades or test scores, top schools now look for students with a transformative vision. The MBA Reality Check covers everything from the specifics of the application process to how applicants can position themselves among the crop of tomorrow's business innovators. Through their work with hundreds of MBA hopefuls, Forster and Thomas have shown what it takes to succeed in today's highly competitive marketplace, including how applicants can find their own exceptional story to set them apart. What to include in an MBA application and what to leave out. What business schools really want to learn about.
