

Autobiography

My name is Michael Smith and I was born on the 30th of August, 1967 in Long Beach, California. My parents were Eddie Smith and Joan Smith. Both of my parents are deceased. My mom died at the age of 57 in 1994 from lung cancer which was the result of smoking her whole lifetime. My father died at the age of 69 in 2006 from a massive heart attack, which was also the likely result from a lifetime of smoking. Fortunately I have been smart enough to avoid that bad habit.

My early childhood was a typical middle class environment circa the 1960's. My dad worked for Simpson Buick as a parts salesman and my mom was a stay at home mother. I had a happy, normal childhood as an only child, leaving me somewhat spoiled. My mom and dad divorced when I was eight years old and both remarried within a year or so of the divorce. My dad remained married to my stepmom Bev until his death. My mom would marry two more times. My first stepdad Vince became a big part of my life and I maintained close contact with him until his death in 2006, two days after my real dad died. Yes, that was a very bad week, losing both of my dads.

Growing up with split parents was not especially difficult since each of my parents kept me out of their divorce and they got along fine at events where both of them were present. I lived with my mom until I was 16 and in high school. By my sophomore year in high school I had begun to hang around with friends that got me into a lot of trouble with a number of things including smoking pot and drinking. I was rapidly heading down a negative path, but was fortunate enough to notice it before I had done any serious damage. I moved in with my dad and changed high schools and friends.

Margaret Sanger: an autobiography Margaret Sanger, 2022-05-28 In Margaret Sanger An Autobiography readers are invited into the intimate historical narrative of a woman whose tireless advocacy for birth control marked a pivotal moment in women's healthcare and autonomy. The book is both a personal account and a chronicling of the social and legal obstacles that Sanger faced in her pursuit of women's reproductive rights. With eloquence and a bold literary style, she navigates readers through the pivotal moments of early 20th century feminism, embedding her story in the larger tapestry of the socio-political climate that both informed and was reshaped by her work. The autobiography is not only a testament to the struggle for reproductive rights but also an important literary artifact in the context of women's studies. Margaret Sanger, driven by her experiences as a nurse and the plights of women she encountered, channeled her observations into activism and ultimately writing. Her autobiography is a culmination of her life's work, written with the intention to illuminate the imperative nature of birth control and to secure its footing as a fundamental human right. The author's personal sacrifices, including arrest and exile, highlight her unwavering commitment to the cause and offer a profound look at resilience in the face of societal and institutional opposition. The importance of Margaret Sanger An Autobiography transcends its historical context and offers timeless insights into the struggle for gender equality. This book comes highly recommended to scholars of women's studies, those interested in the history of medicine and reproductive rights, and anyone who appreciates the power of one individual to incite significant change. Sanger's life story will not only educate readers about the arduous journey toward reproductive freedom but will also serve as an inspiring testament to the enduring spirit of advocacy.

Introduction to Interdisciplinary Studies Allen F. Repko, Rick Szostak, Michelle Phillips Buchberger, 2025-01-03 This book provides instructors and students in entry-level interdisciplinary courses and thematic programs with a comprehensive introduction to interdisciplinary studies. Authors Allen F. Repko, Rick Szostak, and Michelle Phillips Buchberger introduce students to the cognitive process that interdisciplinarians use to approach complex problems and eventually arrive at more comprehensive understandings of them. Students learn how to think like interdisciplinarians, understand interdisciplinary processes, and assess the quality of their own work. Changes to the Fourth Edition include revised content on epistemology and methods, more on integrative strategies, reordering of some chapters, new assignment ideas, and new examples which include student examples and insights from the latest scholarly works. The Autobiography of Margaret Sanger Margaret Sanger, 2012-03-13 Sanger was a pioneer in establishing birth control as a basic human right and a founder of the International Planned Parenthood Federation. Her autobiography is a classic of women's studies. Confabulation: An Anecdotal Autobiography by Dave Gibbons Dave Gibbons, 2023-03-14 This comprehensive in-depth and personal journey through the eyes of one of the world's most famous comics creators, Dave Gibbons, spans his earliest years copying Superman and Batman comics as a kid to co-creating the bestselling graphic novel of all time, Watchmen, and beyond. Getting to Know Ourselves and Others Through the ABCs Claudia Finkbeiner, Althier Lazar, 2015-01-01 This book is a valuable resource for teachers and other professionals who are looking for a proven way to increase cultural appreciation and awareness New applications of the ABCs model of Cultural Understanding and Communication are presented and discussed in this new volume based on studies done in the United States and Canada and Europe In this ground breaking project the authors describe how the ABCs model complicated and challenged and changed the cultural perceptions of those who participated in it even those who were initially highly resistant to such possibilities At the heart of the project is the exchange of narratives life stories that give insight into the cultural worlds of selves and others In addition to the narratives other instruments including the Transcultural Competence Scale TCC provide further evidence of the positive impact of the ABCs on participants receptivity toward cultural differences In the TRANSABCs project researchers from both sides of the Atlantic invited teacher candidates students who will become workplace and other professionals to write an autobiography A of themselves from various cultural perspectives a biography B of an individual who is culturally different from themselves along particular dimensions and to use these documents to conduct cross cultural comparisons C between themselves and the person they interviewed Furthermore candidates developed culturally responsive ideas for the school or the workplace C These exchanges and analyses produced epiphanies and insights that translated into specific actions to improve cultural understanding and communication in classrooms and workplaces Educators and professionals can take from these examples to inspire their own personal journey toward greater cultural understanding and sensitivity

History of Psychology in Autobiography Leendert P. Mos, 2009-06-12 Since the 17th century autobiography has an honorable place in the study of history In 1930 the preeminent historian of psychology Edwin Boring writes that a science separated from its history lacks direction and promises a future of uncertain importance To understand what psychology is and what it is becoming the autobiographies of famous psychologists is history at its best Here we find model inquirers of the science who offer a personalized account of themselves and their vocation in the context of the history of the science What is characteristic of many of those who have contributed to an alternate vision of psychological science is that they never considered themselves or were considered by others as belonging to the mainstream of the discipline In considering an alternative history of psychology in autobiography the editor invited contributors whose research and writings have pushed the discipline in other directions pushed its limits and whose scholarship finds its philosophical framework outside the discipline altogether If these contributors may not be model inquirers their scholarship is very much a matter of consequence for those who wish to understand psychology Among the outliers included here are those who devoted themselves to the writing of psychology examining its history theories research and professional practices and who enthusiastically embraced over the course of their lives the discipline as a human science Their influence has been subtle as has been their appeal to many students who affection for the discipline finds its promise in a discerning self awareness and a critical understanding of others and their worlds This volume is not simply a collection of personal chronologies which might inspire or lend appreciation to a younger generation Our contributors write from their personal and professional experience of course but they write of their thinking and understanding of the psyche as an aspect of human life of psychology as an academic form of human sciences inquiry and so bring to bear their scientific and philosophical imagination to their personal challenges in their chosen vocation as psychologists Our contributors cover a broad swath of the second half of the 20th century the century of psychology Nurturing the discipline from within various philosophical social political and cultural roots their autobiographies exemplify marginality if not alienation from the mainstream even as their professional and personal lives give expression to engaged scholarship commitment to vocation and straightforwardly and reflectively a love of the heart From Germany Carl Graumann from France Erika Apfelbaum from Canada David Bakan and Kurt Danziger and from the United States Amedeo Giorgi Robert Rieber and Joseph Rychlak relate their lives to the larger contexts of our times Their personal stories are an integral part of the historiography of our discipline Indeed a contribution to historiography of our discipline is constituted in their autobiographical self presentations for their writings attest as much to their lives as model inquirers as they do to the possibility of psychology as a human science
