Robert Cohen,2003-10-16 Impoverished young Americans had no greater champion during the Depression than Eleanor Roosevelt As First Lady Mrs Roosevelt used her newspaper columns and radio broadcasts to crusade for expanded federal aid to poor children and teens She was the most visible spokesperson for the National Youth Administration the New Deal s central agency for aiding needy youths and she was adamant in insisting that federal aid to young people be administered without discrimination so that it reached blacks as well as whites girls as well as boys This activism made Mrs Roosevelt a beloved figure among poor teens and children who between 1933 and 1941 wrote her thousands of letters describing their problems and requesting her help Dear Mrs Roosevelt presents nearly 200 of these extraordinary documents to open a window into the lives of the Depression s youngest victims In their own words the letter writers confide what it was like to be needy and young during the worst economic crisis in American history Revealing both the strengths and the limitations of New Deal liberalism this book depicts an administration concerned and caring enough to elicit such moving appeals for help yet unable to respond in the very personal ways the letter writers hoped Funding Your Ministry Scott

Warner Schaie,2019-02-21 Caregiving has emerged as a critical issue in the second half of the life cycle With the growth of the older population there have been dramatic increases in the number of people needing care and assistance The responsibility for care typically falls on families at a time when they have limited resources to meet these needs At a societal level the need for care for growing numbers of disabled elders poses a major challenge for how to organize supportive services in an efficient and responsive system Bringing together multiple perspectives on caregiving the authors explore informal and formal family caregiving and the pivotal issue of how these systems interface and interact An overview of this variation is provided by examining family caregiving from three perspectives the effects of culture on helping patterns and family responsibility how different disabilities affect patterns of family care and longitudinal perspectives on the impact that caregiving has on family members Resources in Education

The Committee is happy with the effectiveness of the Electoral Fraud Northern Ireland Act 2002 but there are still flaws in the current arrangements. Less than 84 percent of these eligible to vote in Northern Ireland are currently registered. Young people and socially/economically depressed groups are especially under-represented. Less than 25 percent of 17 and 18 year olds are registered. Voter's names are no longer placed automatically on next year's register which is an effective anti-fraud measure but on the other hand this has highlighted the low level of registration. Fewer of the new Electoral Identity Cards (EIDs) were issued than expected and while other forms of photographic ID are acceptable at polling stations over 3 500 voters were turned away from polling stations at recent elections because of ID problems. An example of the lack of joined up thinking was the poor performance of two competing Government telephone help lines during the 2003 canvass period.
