The concept paper, or prospectus, although highly abridged, is comprised of many of the same items found in a dissertation. These specific elements of the concept paper (prospectus) may vary depending upon the academic program and the chosen degree. Programs typically provide a grading rubric that serves as an outline for the required components and student are encouraged to follow those rubrics closely in developing their Concept Paper.

Carefully examine the following sample concept paper (prospectus) and then vigilantly put together one for your research proposal. Make sure you share this with the members of your committee and those who will be closely involved with approving your research.

Sample Bill of Fare (Prospectus/Concept paper) for a Proposal conducted in 2004.

Title: The Application of the 12-Step Programs by Alcoholics Successful in Aftercare: A Descriptive Study

Problem Statement: Alcohol abuse is one of the most critical problems facing society Jainchill (2000). The 12-step program has been purported to be the primary model for the treatment of alcoholism (Brooks & Penn, 2003). Yet, to date, there has been little, if any, formal evaluation as to the actual use and application of this program for those who are able to maintain abstinence. In order to provide the most effective and expeditious treatment for alcoholics, it is necessary that a descriptive study be conducted to determine to what extent those who have been successful in aftercare have utilized the 12-step program.

Introduction: In the popular book: I'm Dysfunctional, You're Dysfunctional, Kaminer (1992) took witty potshots at the omnipresent self-help programs and authors of books helping people confront anyone and anything in their lives who they can blame for their unhappiness. In an interview with Kakutani, (1995) Kaminer addressed the social implications of a society engaged in these types of solutions to their problems, and argued that they foster passivity, social isolation, and attitudes contrary to democracy. Kaminer went on to tell Kakutani "At its worst, the recovery movement's cult of victimization
