

An Artist Explores the Rain

Jessica WOW what fun we had today! I noticed you painting with dye on the easels - DRIP - a big splash went running down the page. "It's raindrops!" You smiled. "It is! Woah - it's a great big one!" But that was the only one. As you noticed other colours you added more and more. Hearing the rain outside and knowing how Jessie loves to experiment with paint, I said to Jessie - "I wonder what would happen if we took your painting outside in the rain?" You looked at me with a great big smile "I don't know!"

Jessie as we watched the rain going pitter-patter on your painting we saw it join with the colours and run down the page. "Look - it's going!" Jessie cried.

Eknoor joined us and put her painting next to Jessie's; together they watched the rain changing the paintings.

Jessie after this you wanted to try it all on your own - you did another painting and took it out to watch. I love your natural enthusiasm for learning, trying, and having a go - what an awesome girl you are!

We believe all children have a God-given sense of wonder and are 'natural scientists'. By observing the changes that happen in creation, we are encouraging children to become life-long learners who are curious to find out more, ask questions, practise what they have learnt, and try other ways to get new results. Jessie while you love being around your lovely big sister, I also notice that painting is an area you are confident to explore and make choices in independently. It is awesome to see you finding your own place of belonging and exploring here at Kindy. Eknoor loved painting and exploring with you - thank you for being a kind friend to her! It is a lot of fun exploring the weather with friends. We will continue to provoke lots of learning about the weather and the rain - and I know we will have even more fun ☺
