Civilizing Chengdu Kristin Stapleton, 2020-03-23 This work examines the history of urban planning and administration during modern China's first age of city centered politics focusing on the New Policies of the late Qing and the city administration movement of the 1920s Between 1895 and 1937 the management of cities emerged as one of the chief challenges for the Chinese state Through a detailed case study based on newly available archival sources of the process of urban reform in Chengdu a key provincial capital in the interior Kristin Stapleton shows how urban reformers permanently changed urban administration the urban landscape and urban life by promoting a new type of orderly and productive community in population centers despite the many upheavals of the late Qing and Republican eras Departments of State, Justice, and Commerce, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations for ... United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Departments of State, Justice and Commerce, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations, 1965 War Power, Police Power Mark Neocleous, 2014-02-12 Why is liberalism so obsessed with waste Is there a drone above you now Are you living in a no fly zone What is the role of masculinity in the war on terror And why do so many liberals profess a love of peace while finding new ways to justify slaughter in the name of peace and security In this the first book to deal with the concepts of war power and police power together Mark Neocleous deals with these questions and many more by radically rethinking the relationship between war power and police power Training for Model Citizenship Molly Sundberg, 2016-04-29 This book explores the state in post genocide Rwanda through an ethnography of a state run civic education program and everyday forms of government In 2007 the Rwandan government introduced a nationwide civic education program called Itorero to teach all inhabitants about its vision of the model Rwandan citizen Since then this ideal has been pursued through remote training camps village assemblies and daily government practices Based on ethnographic research of the life and workings of Itorero camps and the day to day administration of a local neighborhood in Kigali this book investigates how such a pursuit has come to affect Rwandans relation to the state and what it may tell us about modern forms of authoritarian rule Hearings United States. Congress. House, 1965

Departments of State, Justice, and Commerce, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations for ... United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations, 1966 Reframing Police Education and Freedom in America Martin Alan Greenberg, Beth Allen Easterling, 2023-09-15 This book untangles the components of police education and advocates a robust community based training model with significant civilian oversight The recommended approach recognizes that the citizenry needs to be included in the provision of basic police education for it is they who must both support and be served by their police The police must be role models for society demonstrating that freedom and rights come with obligations both to the community as a whole and to individuals in need within that community Ultimately the quality of police training and the public's safety depend not only on the leadership of police executives as well as the quality of educational institutions and police candidates but also on the building of a community's trust in its police The issues of police recruitment education and retention have greater consequence in an era when protests and other signs of negativity surround law enforcement Several incidents including most notably George Floyd's murder by police have sparked new training initiatives regarding police de-escalation and community engagement At the same time the proliferation of gun violence and a contentious political climate have led some officers to refrain from undertaking proactive types of policing In this context reform of the police education system is urgent This book examines police training at all levels of government local regional state and federal In addition citizen participation programs including the role of the media and programs for furthering law-related education LRE are highlighted The proposed police education model recognizes that ordinary members of the American public need to contribute to the provision of basic police education for it is they who must both support and be served by their police The focus is on teaching a guardian style of policing at the local level Police education would combine higher education necessary practical proficiencies and intensive field experiences through a gradual level of greater responsibility likely extending over a 2 plus year period for trainees with less than a year of previous college credits This book will be of interest to a wide range of audiences such as law enforcement professionals and trainers including those in executive development programs in police departments community leaders scholars and policy experts who specialize in policing concerned citizens and students of criminal justice especially those interested in police organization and management criminal justice policy and the historical development of police The Alabama Municipal Journal ,1954
