Always engage the power take-off clutch gently. Engaging the power take-off quickly places a shock load on the drive mechanism and will eventually cause failure. If necessary slip the clutch to start the driven machine before fully engaging the power take-off clutch.

POWER LIFT CONTROL

The power lift, which is installed over the transmission in place of the transmission cover, provides positive mechanical power lift and trip control for tractor mounted equipment. To operate the power lift, push down on the trip lever to the right of the gear shift lever. (See Figure 5.) When the trip lever is momentarily pressed with your foot, the power lift is actuated and the power lift shaft will travel through 180 degrees and stop automatically. This 180 degrees of travel will raise or lower the mounted implement depending upon its position before the lift was actuated. Pressing again on the trip lever will complete the cycle of lift operation. If the trip lever is held down, the lift will continue in motion raising and lowering the implement.

HYDRA-LECTRIC CONTROLS

Tractors equipped with Hydra-Lectric units may have one or two hand switches mounted on the steering column. (See Figure 2.) The number of switches is determined by the number of hydraulic cylinders with which the tractor is equipped. The hand switch has four positions: Up, Down, Visual Up and Visual Down. The Up and Down are toggle positions for raising and lowering implements while Visual Up and Visual Down are self-return positions for changing the working depth of mounted or drawn implements.

FOOT ACCELERATOR

Industrial 77 tractors are equipped with a foot accelerator to allow the operator greater flexibility of speed control under varying load and speed conditions. (See Figure 6.) The controls are designed so that the foot accelerator or the governor hand control may be used individually. When using the accelerator pedal, place the governor hand control lever in the bottom notch of the governor control quadrant to obtain maximum variation of engine speeds. The position of the gover-
