Ottoman poetry written in celebration of the built environment and on a vast array of related textual and visual sources Hamadeh demonstrates that architectural change was the result of a dynamic synthesis between internal and external factors and closely mirrored the process of d cloisonnement of the city's social landscape Examining novel forms spaces and decorative vocabularies changing patterns of patronage and new patterns of architectural perception The City s Pleasures shows how these exposed and reinforced the internal dynamics that were played out between a society in flux and a state anxious to recreate an ideal system of social hierarchies Profoundly hybrid in nature the new architectural idiom reflected a growing permeability between elite and middle class sensibilities an unprecedented degree of receptivity to Western and Eastern foreign traditions and a clear departure from the parameters of the classical canon Innovation became the new operative doctrine As the built environment was experienced perceived and appreciated by contemporary observers it Sounding Bodies Shannon Draucker, 2024-07-01 increasingly revealed itself as a perpetual source of sensory pleasures Can the concert hall be as erotic as the bedroom Many Victorian writers believed so In the mid nineteenth century acoustical scientists such as Hermann von Helmholtz and John Tyndall described music as a set of physical vibrations that tickled the ear excited the nerves and precipitated muscular convulsions In turn writers from canonical figures such as George Eliot and Thomas Hardy to New Women novelists like Sarah Grand and Bertha Thomas to anonymous authors of underground pornography depicted bodily sensations and experiences in unusually explicit ways These writers used scenes of music listening and performance to intervene in urgent conversations about gender and sexuality and explore issues of agency pleasure violence desire and kinship Sounding Bodies shows how both classical music and Victorian literature while often considered bastions of conservatism and repression represented powerful sites for feminist and queer politics Pleasures Ladelle McWhorter, 1999-07-22 Sexual identities are dangerous Michel Foucault tells us Here Ladelle McWhorter reads Foucault from an original and personal angle and takes the reader beyond unexplored norms and imposed identities as she points the way toward a personal politics ethics and style that challenge our sexual selves Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved Birth Control, Sex, and Marriage in Britain 1918-1960 Kate Fisher, 2006-07-13 The first half of the twentieth century witnessed a revolution in contraceptive behaviour as the large Victorian family disappeared This book offers a new perspective on the gender relations sexual attitudes and contraceptive practices that accompanied the emergence of the smaller family in modern Britain Kate Fisher draws on a range of first hand evidence including over 190 oral history interviews in which individuals born between 1900 and 1930 described their marriages and sexual relationships By using individual testimony she challenges many of the key conditions that have long been envisaged by demographic and historical scholars as necessary for any significant reduction in average family size to take place Dr Fisher demonstrates that a massive expansion in birth control took place in a society in which sexual ignorance was widespread that effective family limitation was achieved without the mass adoption of new contraceptive technologies that traditional methods such as

withdrawal abstinence and abortion were often seen as preferable to modern appliances such as condoms and caps that communication between spouses was not key to the systematic adoption of contraception and above all that women were not necessarily the driving force behind the attempt to avoid pregnancy Women frequently avoided involvement in family planning decisions and practices whereas the vast majority of men in Britain from the interwar period onward viewed the regular use of birth control as a masculine duty and obligation By allowing this generation to speak for themselves Kate Fisher produces a richer understanding of the often startling social attitudes and complex conjugal dynamics that lay behind the vast changes in contraceptive behaviour and family size in the twentieth century The Lesbian and Gay Studies Reader Henry Abelove, 2012-10-02 Bringing together forty two groundbreaking essays many of them already classics The Lesbian and Gay Studies Reader provides a much needed introduction to the contemporary state of lesbian gay studies extensively illustrating the range scope diversity appeal and power of the work currently being done in the field Featuring essays by such prominent scholars as Judith Butler John D Emilio Kobena Mercer Adrienne Rich Gayle Rubin and Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick The Lesbian and Gay Studies Reader explores a multitude of sexual ethnic racial and socio economic experiences Ranging across disciplines including history literature critical theory cultural studies African American studies ethnic studies sociology anthropology psychology classics and philosophy this anthology traces the inscription of sexual meanings in all forms of cultural expression Representing the best and most significant English language work in the field The Lesbian and Gay Studies Reader addresses topics such as butch fem roles the cultural construction of gender lesbian separatism feminist theory AIDS safe sex education colonialism S M Oscar Wilde Gertrude Stein children s books black nationalism popular films Susan Sontag the closet homophobia Freud Sappho the media the hijras of India Robert Mapplethorpe and the politics of representation It also contains an extensive bibliographical essay which will provide readers with an invaluable guide to further reading Contributors Henry Abelove Tomas Almaguer Ana Maria Alonso Michele Barale Judith Butler Sue Ellen Case Danae Clark Douglas Crimp Teresa de Lauretis John D Emilio Jonathan Dollimore Lee Edelman Marilyn Frye Charlotte Furth Marjorie Garber Stuart Hall David Halperin Phillip Brian Harper Gloria T Hull Maria Teresa Koreck Audre Lorde Biddy Martin Deborah E McDowell Kobena Mercer Richard Meyer D A Miller Serena Nanda Esther Newton Cindy Patton Adrienne Rich Gayle Rubin Joan W Scott Daniel L Selden Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick Barbara Smith Catharine R Stimpson Sasha Torres Martha Vicinus Simon Watney Harriet Whitehead John J Winkler Monique Wittig and Yvonne Yarbro Bejarano The Oxford Encyclopedia of British Literature David Scott Kastan, 2006-03-03 From folk ballads to film scripts this new five volume encyclopedia covers the entire history of British literature from the seventh century to the present focusing on the writers and the major texts of what are now the United Kingdom and the Republic of Ireland In five hundred substantial essays written by major scholars the Encyclopedia of British Literature includes biographies of nearly four hundred individual authors and a hundred topical essays with detailed analyses of particular themes movements genres and
