Broadway in the Box Kelly Kessler, 2020-04-01 It was as if American television audiences discovered the musical in the early 21st century In 2009 Glee took the Fox Network and American television by storm with the unexpected unification of primetime programming awkward teens and powerful voices spontaneously bursting into song After raking in the highest rating for a new show in the 2009-2010 season Glee would continue to cultivate rabid fans tie in soundtracks and merchandising and a spinoff reality competition show until its conclusion in 2015 Alongside Glee NBC and Fox would crank up musical visibility with the nighttime drama Smash and a string of live musical productions Then came ABC's comedic fantasy musical series Galavant and the CW's surprise Golden Globe darling Crazy Ex Girlfriend Television and the musical appeared to be a perfect match But as author Kelly Kessler illustrates television had at that point been carrying on a sixty year symbiotic love affair with the musical From Rodgers and Hammerstein's appearance on the first Toast of the Town

telecast and Mary Martin's iconic Peter Pan airings to Barbra Streisand's 1960s CBS specials The Carol Burnett Show Cop Rock Great Performances and a string of one-off musical episodes of sitcoms nighttime soaps fantasy shows and soap operas television has always embraced the musical Kessler shows how the form is written across the history of American television and how its various incarnations tell the stories of shifting American culture and changing television film and theatrical landscapes She recounts and explores this rich decades-long history by traversing musicals stars and sounds from film Broadway and Las Vegas to the small screen

Television in Black-and-white America Alan Nadel, 2005 La couverture indigne Alan Nadel's new book reminds us that most of the images on early TV were decidedly Caucasian and directed at predominantly white audiences Television did not invent whiteness for America but it did reinforce it as the norm particularly during the Cold War years Nadel now shows just how instrumental it was in constructing a narrow conservative and very white vision of America During this era prime time TV was dominated by adult Westerns with heroes like The Rebel's Johnny Yuma reincarnating Southern values and Bonanza's Cartwright family reinforcing the notion of white patriarchy programs that Nadel shows bristled with Cold War messages even as they spoke to the nation's mythology America had become visually reconfigured as a vast Ponderosa crisscrossed by concrete highways designed to carry suburban white drivers beyond the moral challenge of racism racial poverty and increasingly vocal civil rights demands
