liquor store in partnership with Willy and Bobo street smart acquaintances of Walter's. At the beginning of the play Walter and Beneatha's father has recently died and Mama is waiting for a life insurance check for 10 000. Walter has a sense of entitlement to the money but Mama has religious objections to alcohol and Beneatha has to remind him it is Mama's call how to spend it. Eventually Mama puts some of the money down on a new house choosing an all white neighborhood over a black one for the practical reason that it happens to be much cheaper. Later she relents and gives the rest of the money to Walter to invest with the provision that he reserve 3 000 for Beneatha's education. Walter passes the money on to Willy's naive sidekick Bobo who gives it to Willy who absconds with it depriving Walter and Beneatha of their dreams though not the Youngers of their new home. Meanwhile Karl Lindner a white representative of the neighborhood they plan to move to makes a generous offer to buy them out. He wishes to avoid neighborhood tensions over interracial population which to the three women's horror Walter prepares to accept as a solution to their financial setback. Lena says that while money was something they try to work for they should never take it if it was a person's way of telling them they weren't fit to walk the same earth as them.
