

MEAN - the average

Use the mean to describe the middle of a set of data that DOES NOT have an outlier.

MEDIAN - the middle value in the set when the numbers are arranged in order. If there are two in the middle, find their average.

Use the median to describe the middle of a set of data that DOES have an outlier.

MODE - the data item that occurs the most times. It is possible for a set of data to have no mode, one mode, or more than one mode.

Use the mode when the data are nonnumeric or when choosing the most popular item.

Outlier - a data value that is much higher or lower than the other data values in the set.

Range - the difference between the greatest and the least data value. The range gives you a measure of the spread of data.
