Ranking Of High Schools In Jamaica 2013:

The Culture Trap Derron Wallace, 2023 In The Culture Trap Derron Wallace argues that the overreliance on culture to explain Black students achievement and behavior in schools is a trap that undermines the historical factors and institutional processes that shape how Black students experience schooling This trap is consequential for a host of racial and ethnic minority youth in schools including Black Caribbean young people in London and New York City Since the 1920s Black Caribbeans in New York have been considered a high achieving Black model minority Conversely since the 1950s Black Caribbeans in London have been regarded as a chronically underachieving minority In both contexts however it is often suggested that Caribbean culture informs their status whether as a celebrated minority in the US or as a demoted minority in Britain Drawing on rich ethnographic observations as well as interview and archival data from two of the largest public schools in London and New York City Wallace interrogates the fault lines of these claims and highlights the influence of colonialism class and context in shaping Black Caribbeans educational experiences As racial and ethnic achievement gaps and discussions about what to do about them persist in the US and Britain Wallace shows how culture is at times used as an alibi for racism in schools and points out what educators parents and students can do to change it Unshackled: Education for Freedom, Student Achievement, and Personal Emancipation Greg Wiggan, Lakia Scott, Marcia Watson, Richard Reynolds, 2014-04-03 Harnessing conceptual inspiration through the work of Harriet Tubman and Queen Nanny the Maroon of Jamaica this book explores the historical and contemporary role that education has and can continually play as an instrument of personal and group liberation The book discusses the early formations of the Transatlantic Slave Trade the enslavement of native populations and the subsequent development of the Underground Railroad and Maroon societies in the Caribbean and Americas as systems of liberation It investigates the development and maintenance of racial gendered and class stratification and provides a personal path to freedom as a context for a broader discussion on using education as a mechanism for dismantling the effects of colonization miseducation and social psychological domination in schools and society As a contemporary issue it presents an in depth analysis of the Tucson Unified School District in Arizona and the controversy surrounding its ethnic studies program as an example of one of the contested sites of curriculum development and student liberation Additionally it discusses high performing charter schools as an alternative model of education which may help to provide a systematic way of unshackling institutional barriers and oppression Ultimately this book acknowledges that today the road to freedom is still one we must all travel as miseducation school failure school dropout unemployment underemployment poverty neighborhood violence incarceration and a growing prison industrial complex are all reminders of the work that still must be accomplished Like those who historically sacrificed their lives to gain freedom and an education today with the lingering effects of institutionalized systems of domination education must continue to be an instrument of social mobility and liberation if indeed we are to make schools and society more humane and inclusive towards those who are still waiting to be unshackled The book presents implications regarding the treaties on education for freedom as a school reform and public policy topic Women's Lives around the World Susan M.
