Translational Epigenomic Public Health Innovation Laurens Holmes, Jr, 2025-03-05 Translational Epigenomic Public Health DNA Sequence and Gene Interaction as Epigenomics Disease Risk Control and Prevention Public health reflects what we can do as a society to remain healthy with the core function of public health indicative of assessment policy and assurance Since human health does not merely involve an absence of physical disease process but a complete state of social economic and mental well being hence global environment and health outcomes Substantially every day there is an encounter or daily interaction with the human environment which affects the way in which the human gene is expressed and the subsequent gene product as protein molecules Basically social conditions such as social isolation discrimination racism low SES social adversity and unemployment as well as toxic waste air pollutants poor water and air qualities climate warming etc have the tendency to alter human gene expression in a negative direction implying increased disease development poor prognosis survival disadvantage and excess mortality Since social determinants of health SDH reflect social hierarchy and social gradient as the cause of causes in health disparities understanding and health disparities narrowing however the ultimate elimination as expressed by Healthy People 2030 requires Epigenomic Determinants of Health EDH in health disparities narrowing and ultimate elimination hence health equity transformation Genes remain hereditary materials acquired through

23 pairs of chromosomes and exert fundamental functions in cellular development differentiation and maturation Human proteins that serve as cell membranes enzymes that catalyze biological activities and drug receptors that are molecules required for drug binding and response are all products of human gene expression and if drug receptors are unenviable there is no drug response hence marginalized health outcome excess mortality in childhood and adult disease Medicine and health remain an inexact science since the only known diagnosis is mortality when and how is not very fully understood indicative of mutualistic collaborative transdisciplinary symbiotic translational team science and dynamic initiatives in the understanding of disease risk determinants morbidity therapeutics prognosis survival and mortality Since the disease process is significantly driven by environment and not gene as DNA sequence genomics but gene and environment interaction as epigenomic modulations in disease etiology therapeutics prognosis and survival there is a need to understand specific environments associated with DNA and the application of such understanding in disease prevention and control as well as therapeutics There is a need for human beings to understand specific environments and interactions with human gene as DNA sequence in impaired gene expression protein synthesis and cellular proliferation as cell synthesis division and maturation Specifically epigenomic modulations reflect genes as DNA and environment interaction such as stress isolation nutritional imbalance air pollutants toxic waste poor water quality etc in transcriptomes elaboration amino acid AA and protein synthesis gene expression and cell synthesis division and maturation in cellular proliferation Human s stress isolation anxiety and depression trigger social signal transduction SST resulting in catecholamine elaboration and DNA methylation which is explained by the DNA as helix transformation into tRNA mRNA transcriptomes with the methyl group CH<sub>3</sub> binding with the C p G CH<sub>3</sub> C p G as DNA methylation driven by DNA methylase enzyme as well as the RNA polymerase The observed methyl cytosine inhibits transcriptomes elaboration resulting in impaired protein synthesis gene expression downregulation and abnormal cellular proliferation hence malignant neoplasm and other conditions including though not limited to Type II diabetes mellitus T2DM hypertension Htn major depressive disorder MDD asthma cardiovascular disease CVDs cerebrovascular disease stroke Parkinsonism Dementia etc Epigenomic public health EPH is a novel trajectory in the application of normal epigenomic modulations in disease understanding as well as the utilization of abnormal epigenomic modulations knowledge in disease causation control and prevention With patients presenting with wheezing shortness of breath and coughing as the chief complaint history taking remains vital as well as system review These clinical features reflect malignancy which requires confirmation with laboratory data information However there are a number of cancer subtypes that present with different clinical manifestations and different responses to treatment and preventive measures such as prostate cancer ALL AML retinoblastoma lymphoma bronchial carcinoma cervical carcinoma breast cancer etc With respect to epigenomic public health the specific gene involved in prostate cancer requires epigenomic modulation via laboratory assessment such as DNA methylation and histone modification through methylation acetylation or phosphorylation Upon this aberrant epigenomic modulation and inverse gene expression of a specific gene protein synthesis as certain drug receptors marginalizes resulting in impaired drug response poor disease outcome and mortality Since 60% of the clinical condition is driven by genomic aberration as abnormal DNA sequencing DNA sequence gene and environment interaction predispose to multiple disease causation such as malignant neoplasm cancer prostate breast lymphoma bronchial brain CNS ependymoma hypertension T2DM obesity CVAs CVDs asthma there is a need for epigenomic public health initiative This approach implies the understanding of drug transcriptome as drug receptors protein synthesis and normal cell proliferation and the application of induction therapy in enhancing health improvement hence epigenomic public health trajectory Since gene expression enhances protein synthesis this process facilitates drug receptors indicative of drug response and improved therapeutics
