Erkkilä, 2013-09-26 Global University Rankings explores the novel topic of global university rankings and their effects on higher education in Europe The contributions in this volume outline different discourses on global university rankings and explore the related changes concerning European higher education policies disciplinary traditions and higher education institutions The first global university rankings were published less than a decade ago but these policy instruments have become highly influential in shaping the approaches and institutional realities of higher education The rankings have portrayed European academic institutions in a varying light There is intense reflexivity over the figures leading to ideational changes and institutional adaptation that take surprisingly similar forms in different European countries The contributions in this book critically assess global university rankings as a policy discourse that would seem to be instrumental to higher education reform throughout Europe

Engineering Education and Management Liangchi Zhang, Chunliang Zhang, 2011-11-25 This is the proceedings of the selected papers presented at 2011 International Conference on Engineering Education and Management ICEEM2011 held in Guangzhou China during November 18-20, 2011. ICEEM2011 is one of the most important conferences in the field of Engineering Education and Management and is co-organized by Guangzhou University, The University of New South Wales, Zhejiang University and Xi'an Jiaotong University. The conference aims to provide a high-level international forum for scientists, engineers, and students to present their new advances and research results in the field of Engineering Education and Management. This volume comprises 122 papers selected from over 400 papers originally submitted by universities and industrial concerns all over the world. The papers specifically cover the topics of Management Science and Engineering, Engineering Education and Training, Project Engineering, Management, and Other related topics. All of the papers were peer-reviewed by selected experts. The papers have been selected for this volume because of their quality and their relevancy to the topic. This volume will provide readers with a broad overview of the latest advances in the field of Engineering Education and Management. It will also constitute a valuable reference work for researchers in the fields of Engineering Education and Management.

Springer Handbook of Science and Technology Indicators Wolfgang Glänzel, Henk F. Moed, Ulrich Schmoch, Mike Thelwall, 2019-10-30 This handbook presents the state of the art of quantitative methods and models to understand and assess the science and technology system. Focusing on various aspects of the development and application of indicators derived from data on scholarly publications, patents, and electronic communications, the individual chapters written by leading experts discuss theoretical and methodological issues, illustrate applications, highlight their policy context and relevance, and point to future research directions. A substantial portion of the book is dedicated to detailed descriptions and analyses of data sources, presenting both traditional and advanced approaches. It addresses the main bibliographic metrics and indexes such as the journal impact factor and the h-index, as well as altmetric and webometric indicators and science mapping techniques on different levels of aggregation and in the context of their value for the assessment of research performance as well as their impact on research policy and society. It also presents and critically discusses various national research evaluation systems. Complementing the sections reflecting on the science system, the technology section includes multiple chapters that explain different aspects of patent statistics, patent classification, and database search methods to retrieve patent-related information. In addition, it examines the relevance of trademarks and standards as additional technological indicators. The Springer Handbook of Science and Technology Indicators is an invaluable resource for practitioners, scientists, and policy makers wanting a systematic and thorough analysis of the potential and limitations of the various approaches to assess research and research performance.

Scientific writing for agricultural research scientists Youdeowei, A., Stapleton, P., Obubo, R., 2012-12-31 This new fully revised edition aims to serve as a guide for agricultural research scientists and other practitioners in writing papers for publication It also looks to provide a resource manual for training courses in scientific writing There are three new chapters on reporting statistical results communicating science to non scientific audiences and electronic publishing In addition the original chapters have all been rewritten to reflect current developments and to make the content more complete and easily comprehensible University Rankings William Yat Wai Lo, 2014-02-17 This book adopts a qualitative case study approach to provide the readers with a systematic delineation and interpretation of the implications of the university ranking phenomenon for Taiwan's higher education system It reviews the literature on different theories concerning the global transformation of higher education and presents basic information on higher education in Taiwan The author develops a four dimensional framework for the analysis of the ranking phenomenon in the island state First the technological ecological dimension aims to look into how the rankings have impacted Taiwan's higher education based on empirical findings from five Taiwanese public universities Next the technological geographical dimension examines how Taiwan can use rankings to promote its interests in global higher education The two conceptual dimensions focus on the relationship between the rankings and power in higher education They show how the phenomenon can be read and explained through theoretical lenses from ecological and geographical perspectives From an ecological perspective the empirical evidence suggests that the influence of rankings varies throughout the academic hierarchy in Taiwan The theoretical analysis then illustrates the relationship between the ranking phenomenon and the power structure in academic hierarchy Geographically while the empirical analysis is based on data from Taiwan the theoretical analysis offers essential insights that help readers to understand the changing global landscape of higher education and its implications in East Asia Characterization of Semiconductor Heterostructures and Nanostructures Giovanni Agostini, Carlo Lamberti, 2013-04-11 Characterization of Semiconductor Heterostructures and Nanostructures is structured so that each chapter is devoted to a specific characterization technique used in the understanding of the properties structural physical chemical electrical etc of semiconductor quantum wells and superlattices An additional chapter is devoted to ab initio modeling The book has two basic aims The first is educational providing the basic concepts of each of the selected techniques with an approach understandable by advanced students in Physics Chemistry Material Science Engineering Nanotechnology The second aim is to provide a selected set of examples from the recent literature of the TOP results obtained with the specific technique in understanding the properties of semiconductor heterostructures and nanostructures Each chapter has this double structure the first part devoted to explain the basic concepts and the second to the discussion of the most peculiar and innovative examples The topic of quantum wells wires and dots should be seen as a pretext of applying top level characterization techniques in understanding the structural electronic etc properties of matter at the nanometer and even sub nanometer scale In this respect it is an essential reference in the much broader and extremely hot field of Nanotechnology Comprehensive collection of the most powerful characterization techniques for semiconductors heterostructures and nanostructures Most of the chapters are authored by scientists that are world wide among the top ten in publication ranking of the specific field Each chapter starts with a didactic introduction on the technique The second part of each chapters deals with a selection of top examples highlighting the power of the specific technique to analyse the properties of semiconductors heterostructures and nanostructures World University

Rankings: Statistical Issues And Possible Remedies Kay Cheng Soh, 2017-03-08 World university ranking started one and a half decades ago for the purpose of understanding what makes an excellent institution of higher education Subsequent to the appearance of the Academic Ranking of World Universities at the Shanghai Jiaotong University there soon emerged the QS World University Rankings and the Times Higher Education World University Rankings These three ranking systems are considered the classics as they are the fore runners although no less than ten new systems have come to the arena The various ranking systems adopt a common approach of weight and sum to process the indicator data Each system somewhat arbitrarily decides on a set of indicators and assigns different weights to these presumably reflecting their relative importance This simple and simplistic approach meets well common sense And in fact much of the discussion on world university rankings is conducted at the commonsensical level However analyses conducted in the recent years uncovered several problems of the prevalent approach spurious precision mutual compensation weight discrepancy indicator redundancy etc which render the overall scores and ranking suspect in terms of validity These are due to systems ignoring the fact that world university rankings are a form of social measurement and therefore need be seen from this perspective Moreover rankings encourage competition and in the highly competitive world of today it is natural that institutional attention is focused on the ranking results By now the original purpose of world university ranking seems to have been overshadowed and world university rankings look more like international academic contests as though they are annual sports meets This monograph collects together many articles pertaining to the identified measurement and statistical issues of world university rankings and suggests remedies to make ranking results more trustworthy Issues in Informing

Game Theory and Networks Surajit Borkotokey, Rajnish Kumar, Diganta Mukherjee, K. S. Mallikarjuna Rao, Sudipta Sarangi, 2022-01-01 This book is a collection of selected papers presented at the consecutively held international conferences on Game Theory and Networks organized by the Department of Mathematics Dibrugarh University India in collaboration with the Economics Department of Queen's University Belfast UK during September 6-9 2019 and September 13-15 2018 The book includes chapters on network measures and network formation application of network theory to contagion biological data and finance and macroeconomics as expository articles The book also contains chapters on fair allocation in the context of queuing rationing and cooperative games with transferable utilities for engaged researchers A few survey chapters on non cooperative game theory evolutionary game theory mechanism design and social choice theory are also incorporated to cater to the needs of the beginners in the field This book discusses the use of game theoretic tools and network models across disciplines mathematics statistics economics computer science political science sociology and psychology It aims at providing a suitable learning experience to beginners on the basics of cooperative games networks and mechanism design as well as recent developments to research scholars having the basic knowledge of these topics Multidimensional Journal Evaluation Stefanie Haustein, 2012-04-26 Scientific communication depends primarily on publishing in journals The most important indicator to determine the influence of a journal is the Impact Factor Since this factor only measures the average number of citations per article in a certain time window it can be argued that it does not reflect the actual value of a periodical This book defines five dimensions which build a framework for a multidimensional method of journal evaluation The author is winner of the Eugene Garfield Doctoral Dissertation Scholarship 2011 After the Crisis James G. Carrier, 2016-02-12 After the Crisis Anthropological Thought Neoliberalism and the Aftermath offers a thought provoking examination of the state of contemporary anthropology identifying key issues that have confronted the discipline in recent years and linking them to neoliberalism and suggesting how we might do things differently in the future The first part of the volume considers how anthropology has come to resemble as a result of the rise of postmodern and poststructural approaches in the field key elements of neoliberalism and neoclassical economics by rejecting the idea of system in favour of individuals It also investigates the effect of the economic crisis on funding and support for higher education and addresses the sense that anthropology has lost its way with uncertainty over the purpose and future of the discipline The second part of the book explores how the discipline can overcome its difficulties and place itself on a firmer foundation suggesting ways that we can productively combine the debates of the late twentieth century with a renewed sense that people live their lives not as individuals but as enmeshed in webs of relationship and obligation

Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Ranking Journals Impact Factor 2011 books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Ranking Journals Impact Factor 2011 books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals. These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Ranking Journals Impact
