

RAT DISSECTION GUIDE

Follow this guide and use the photos to assist you in dissecting the rat. See the final page of this guide for a checklist of structures required to identify.

EXTERNAL STRUCTURES

1. Examine the rat specimen and note the basic body plan and external features. The rat's body is divided into the anterior head connected to the trunk by a short neck and a posterior tail. Rats use all four limbs for locomotion and therefore have similar anatomical features on all limbs. Each digit has a claw at the tip and walking pads in the palm area. One of the distinguishing mammalian features of the rat is the hair covering most of the body. While male and female rats have paired mammary glands, they are not visible in male rats.
2. Note the cone-shaped head with elongated face. On the head find the eyes and ears. The eyes have upper and lower eyelids and a nictitating membrane, found on the medial portion of the eye beneath the two outer lids. Observe the external ear skin fold of each ear called the pinna, which aids in directing sound waves to the external ear opening. Locate the long sensory hairs, called vibrissae (whiskers), on the head which provide the rat with a very effective sense of touch (Figure 1).
