

Wiring Raven 660

To wire in the Raven 660 controller follow the chart and instructions below:

1. Plug the round plug in the round port on the back of the Raven controller
2. The cable that splits out from the big cable is for the battery (Red is positive, White is negative)
3. Plug the end of this cable to the extension cable which has the same ports
4. At the end of this cable there is a round plug that needs to be hooked into the round plug of the encoder
5. There is a green and yellow plug off of this cable that needs to be plugged into the valve
6. You will notice that this plug does not fit into the valve so you need to use the plug that is in the valve
7. The plug on the valve has two wires coming from it that you will need to wire into with a pig tail that has a plug that matches the green and yellow plug from the cable
8. It does not matter which way you wire it as long as the wires from the plug in the valve are wired to a pig tail with a plug on it that fits the green and yellow plug
9. Place something over where you tied these together as the wires will be bare
10. The other plugs and cables can be tied up and placed out of harm's way
