Teaching Mathematics in Multilingual Classrooms J.B. Adler, 2005-12-21 Increasingly teachers all over the world are grappling on a daily basis with the fact of multilingual classrooms In this book Jill Adler captures three inter related dilemmas that lie at the heart of teaching mathematics in multilingual classrooms Adler's identification and naming of the dilemma of code switching the dilemma of mediation and the dilemma of transparency arise from exploring the realities of actual classrooms and are shaped by a perspective of teaching as a social practice Adler provides a sharp analysis and strong theoretical grounding for her work pulling together research related to the relationship between language and mathematics communicating mathematics and mathematics in bi multilingual settings In so doing she offers a direct challenge to dominant research on communication in mathematics classrooms that has othered the multilingual setting in its normalisation of the monolingual classroom The norm is a multicultural one Set in contemporary South Africa a context of linguistic diversity and rapid change this book offers a spotlight whose beam is wide enough to illuminate dilemmas at work in all mathematics classrooms Social Justice and Transformative Learning Sandra M. Tomlinson-Clarke, Darren L. Clarke, 2016-03-10 The similarities between the United States and South Africa with respect to race power oppression and economic inequities are striking and a better understanding of these parallels can provide educational gains for students and educators in both countries Through shared experiences and perspectives this volume presents scholarly work from U S and South African scholars that advance educational practice in support of social justice and transformative learning It provides a comprehensive framework for developing transformational learning experiences that facilitates leadership for social justice and a deeper understanding of the factors influencing personal national and global identity Shades of Globalization in Three Early Childhood Settings Ailie Cleghorn, Larry Prochner, 2010-01-01 Shades of Globalization casts an ethnographic eye on the interplay between local and global influences on the organization and activities within three early childhood settings each of which is located in a context of rapid social change Stemming from a four year study of early childhood thought and practice each of the eight chapters touches on a different aspect of the three case study preschools one each in India South Africa and an aboriginal community in Canada The authors take a critical perspective on taken for granted assumptions about what constitutes the most appropriate preschool experience for children querying for example the meaning of school readiness within local communities This book will appeal to those who have an interest in the diversity of children's lives and preschool experiences throughout the world education and social policy makers teacher educators teachers pre service student teachers day care workers parents community leaders governmental and non governmental organizations and consultants early childhood program planners and evaluators community development workers university lecturers and developmental psychologists Ailie Cleghorn is Professor of Education at Concordia University in Montreal She teaches in the Educational Studies Masters Program and conducts research that is grounded in her field of comparative sociology of education Earlier publications include Issues in African Education Sociological Perspectives with Ali A Abdi Palgrave MacMillan and Missing the Meaning The Development and Use of Print and Non Print Text Materials in Diverse School Settings with Alan Peacock Palgrave MacMillan Larry Prochner is Professor of Early Childhood Education at the University of Alberta His research centres on the South African national bibliography ,1999 Classified list with author and title index Complex Classroom Encounters Rinelle Evans,Ailie Cleghorn,2012-12-30 This scholarly work appears at a crucial moment in South Africa With the country now democratically independent for close to 20 years the authors provide a comprehensive description of schooling and overall education that allows the reader to see if or how the wide social development gaps that existed during the apartheid period are changing This book is a rare academic contribution to the current linguistic and culturally rich classroom that teachers now work in daily The authors report that some teachers are flummoxed by what they find newly trained teachers seem better prepared while others bring old but good teaching habits into the classroom Overall this book rooted as it is in meticulous long term ethnographic classroom observations and multiple teacher interviews shows that what is effective for the learning of learners is not by any means detachable from demographic economic or political contexts With that in mind the book s intentions and structure are clear and the initial historical analyses provide insight to the important linguistic social and cultural connections or disconnections present in contemporary South Africa
