Heath, Dudley A. Brown, 2025-04-08 This groundbreaking book is a history of the Black Baptist experience in Canada It includes diverse and informative chapters on events themes and organizations such as the underground railway gender architecture literature civil rights empire and associations It also focuses on several key early churches from the West Coast to the East Coast along with important personages such as Washington Christian Jennie Johnson David George William White William Troy and William M Mitchell The North American Species of *Drosophila Alfred Henry Sturtevant, 1921 Acquisitions and Collection Development in the Humanities Irene Owens, 1997 A guide for the various areas of the humanities including religious studies dance and cultural genres Considers such aspects as managerial concerns in documentary delivery changing budgetary needs and fluctuations in journal prices Also includes a primer on electronic text collection development and an early appearance of the hopefully short lived word Webliography Material Noise Anne M. Royston, 2019-09-17 An argument that theoretical works can signify through their materiality their noise or such nonsemantic elements as typography as well as their semantic content In Material Noise Anne Royston argues that theoretical works signify through their materiality such nonsemantic elements as typography or color as well as their semantic content Examining works by Jacques Derrida Avital Ronell Georges Bataille and other well known theorists Royston considers their materiality and design which she terms noise as integral to their meaning In other words she reads these theoretical works as complex assemblages just as she would read an artist's book in all its idiosyncratic tangibility Royston explores the formlessness and heterogeneity of the Encyclopedia Da Costa which published works by Bataille Andr Breton and others the use of layout and white space in Derrida's Glas the typographic illegibility static and interference in Ronell's The Telephone

Book and the enticing surfaces of Mark C Taylor's Hiding its digital counterpart The Real Las Vegas NV and Shelley Jackson's Skin Royston then extends her analysis to other genres examining two recent artists' books that express explicit theoretical concerns Johanna Drucker's Stochastic Poetics and Susan Howe's Tom Tit Tot Throughout Royston develops the concept of artistic arguments which employ signification that exceeds the semantics of a printed text and are not reducible to a series of linear logical propositions Artistic arguments foreground their materiality and reflect on the media that create them Moreover Royston argues each artistic argument anticipates some aspect of digital thinking speaking directly to such contemporary concerns as hypertext communication theory networks and digital distribution Handbook on the Geographies of Creativity

Anjelina de Dios, Lily Kong, 2020-09-25 How can the where of creativity help us examine how and why it has become a paradigmatic concept in contemporary economies and societies Adopting a geographically diverse theoretically rigorous approach the Handbook offers a cutting edge study of creativity as it has emerged in policy academic activist and cultural discourse over the last two decades To this end the volume departs from conventional modes of analyzing creativity by industry region or sector and instead identifies key themes that thread through shifting contexts of the creative in the arts media technology education governance and development By tracing the myriad spatialities of creativity the chapters map its inherently paradoxical features reinforcing persistent conditions of inequality even as it opens avenues for imagining and enacting more equitable futures The Secrets of Silence Shannon Malone

Gonzalez, 2025-09-30 Why black women's stories of encounters with the police are missing from official and unofficial accounts of police violence In The Secrets of Silence Shannon Malone Gonzalez investigates how the policing of black women is tied to the policing of their stories Over a period of four years Malone Gonzalez conducted intimate life history interviews with black women about their encounters listening to those who had never shared their stories before had never even been asked to or had tried repeatedly to speak to those around them to no avail They all described the unspoken or whispered connections in the ways officers and communities socially control black women to put them in their place Centering black women's searches for recognition of their violent encounters with police and other people in their lives Malone Gonzalez examines the pervasive and often invisible forms of everyday policing that render black women's stories missing from official data headlines and community conversations Articulating what she calls the space between recognition of black women's stories and their encounters Malone Gonzalez shows that policing is as much about silence as it is about violence Black women's silenced stories then provide a way to name and critique the institutional and intimate forms of policing that break and bend black social relations into a complex web of social control Drawing on abolition feminism and black knowledge traditions she envisions storytelling and listening as a way to reimagine remember and reconnect in solidarity and worldbuilding James Rosenquist Michael Lobel, James Rosenquist, 2009 This is the social history of art at its best Alex

Luker, 2000-11-09 In a major revision of accepted wisdom this book originally published by UNC Press in 1991 demonstrates that American social Christianity played an important role in racial reform during the period between Emancipation and the civil rights movement As organizations created by the heirs of antislavery sentiment foundered in the mid 1890s Ralph Luker argues a new generation of black and white reformers many of them representatives of American social Christianity explored a variety of solutions to the problem of racial conflict Some of them helped to organize the Federal Council of Churches in 1909 while others returned to abolitionist and home missionary strategies in organizing the NAACP in 1910 and the National Urban League in 1911 A half century later such organizations formed the institutional core of America's civil rights movement Luker also shows that the black prophets of social Christianity who espoused theological
