Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Pastoral Tradition Donna L. Potts,2012-01-01 In Contemporary Irish Poetry and the Pastoral Tradition Donna L Potts closely examines the pastoral genre in the work of six Irish poets writing today Through the exploration of the poets and their works she reveals the wide range of purposes that pastoral has served in both Northern Ireland and the Republic a postcolonial critique of British imperialism a response to modernity industrialization and globalization a way of uncovering political and social repercussions of gendered representations of Ireland and more recently a means for conveying environmentalism s more complex understanding of the value of nature Potts traces the pastoral back to its origins in the work of Theocritus of Syracuse in the third century and plots its evolution due to cultural changes While all pastoral poems share certain generic traits Potts makes clear that pastorals are shaped by social and historical contexts and Irish pastorals in particular were influenced by Ireland s unique relationship with the land language and industrialization due to England s colonization For her discussion Potts has chosen six poets who have written significant collections of pastoral poetry and whose work is in dialogue with both the pastoral tradition and other contemporary pastoral poets Three poets are men John Montague Seamus Heaney Michael Longley while three are women Eavan Boland Medbh McGuckian Nuala N Dhomhnaill Five are English language authors while the sixth N Dhomhnaill writes in Irish Additionally some of the poets hail from the Republic while others originate from Northern Ireland Potts contends that while both Irish Republic and Northern Irish poets respond to a shared history of British colonization in their pastorals the 1921 partition of the country caused the pastoral tradition to evolve differently on either side of the border primarily because of the North s more rapid industrialization its more heavily Protestant population

whose response to environmentalism was somewhat different than that of the Republic's predominantly Catholic population as well the greater impact of the world wars and the Irish Troubles In an important distinction from other studies of Irish poetry Potts moves beyond the influence of history and politics on contemporary Irish pastoral poetry to consider the relatively recent influence of ecology Contemporary Irish poets often rely on the motif of the pastoral retreat to highlight various environmental threats to those retreats whether they be high rises motorways global warming or acid rain Potts concludes by speculating on the future of pastoral in contemporary Irish poetry through her examination of more recent poets including Moya Cannon and Paula Meehan as well as other genres such as film drama and fiction

Visions of British Culture from the Reformation to Romanticism Celestina Savonius-Wroth, 2022-01-17 This book is a major new contribution to the study of cultural identities in Britain and Ireland from the Reformation to Romanticism It provides a fresh perspective on the rise of interest in British vernacular or folk cultures which has often been elided with the emergence of British Romanticism and its Continental precursors Here the Romantics' discovery of and admiration for vernacular traditions is placed in a longer historical timeline reaching back to the controversies sparked by the Protestant Reformation The book charts the emergence of a nuanced discourse about vernacular cultures developing in response to the Reformers' devastating attack on customary practices and beliefs relating to the natural world seasonal festivities and rites of passage It became a discourse grounded in humanist Biblical and antiquarian scholarship informed by the theological and pastoral problems of the long period of religious instability after the Reformation and over the course of the eighteenth century colored by new ideas about culture drawn from Enlightenment historicism and empiricism This study shows that Romantic literary primitivism and Romantic social thought both radical and conservative grew out of this rich context It will be welcomed by historians of early modern and eighteenth century Britain and those interested in the study of religious and vernacular cultures

Chaucerian Dream Visions and Complaints Dana M Symons, 2004-11-01 On several counts one particular collection of French lyrics made in France in the late fourteenth century University of Pennsylvania MS 15 is the most likely repository of Chaucer's French poems It is the largest manuscript anthology extant of fourteenth century French lyrics in the formes fixes balade rondeaux virelay lay and five stanza chanson with by far the largest number of works of unknown authorship The known authors represented in the manuscript and the texts themselves have notable associations with England and with Chaucer And intriguingly there are fifteen lyrics each headed by the initials Ch very likely indications of authorship neatly inserted between rubric and text The rubrics together with other substantial manuscript evidence and the intrinsic worth of the poems make them easily the best candidates among extant French lyrics for Chaucer's authorship appropriate representatives of his French work from the Introduction Thomas Stearns Eliot: Poet A. David Moody, 1994 A carefully revised and corrected second edition of a classic book on our century's best known poet An important and original study which admirably generates fresh thought about Eliot Journal of American Studies
