Lawrence-Taylor, Amanda Verlaque, 2025-06-26 Marking its 30th anniversary National Theatre Connections 2025 draws together ten new plays for young people to perform from some of the UK's most exciting and popular playwrights. These are plays for a generation of theatre makers who want to ask questions, challenge assertions and test boundaries and for those who love to invent and imagine a world of possibilities. The plays offer young performers an engaging and diverse range of material to perform, read or study. Wrestling with themes like the cost of living, crisis, activism, neurodiversity, the point and pointlessness of regret, human rights and loneliness, this collection lays bare a rich and complex terrain in which students can fully immerse themselves, explore and discover. This 2025 anthology represents the full set of ten plays offered by the National Theatre 2025 Festival as well as comprehensive workshop notes that give insights and inspiration for building characters, running rehearsals and staging a production. Like candles on a 30th birthday cake, this collection is bright, striking and set to make a lasting impression. The culmination of the celebrations, it also strikes a note of eager anticipation as the next chapter begins.

23 Problems in Systems Neuroscience Jan Leonard Hemmen, Terrence J. Sejnowski, 2006. The complexity of the brain and the protean nature of behavior remain the most elusive area of science, but also the most important. Van Hemmen and Sejnowski invited 23 experts from the many areas from evolution to qualia of systems neuroscience to formulate one problem each. Although each chapter was written independently and can be read separately, together they provide a useful roadmap to the field of systems neuroscience and will serve as a source of inspirations for future explorers of the brain.

Answers to Your Biggest Questions About Teaching Elementary Math John J. SanGiovanni, Susie Katt, Latrenda D. Knighten, Georgina Rivera, 2021-09-09. Your guide to grow and learn as a math teacher. Let's face it, teaching elementary math can be hard. So much about how we teach math today may look and feel different from how we learned it. Today we recognize placing the student at the center of their learning increases engagement, motivation and academic achievement soars. Teaching math in a student-centered way changes the role of the teacher from one who traditionally delivers knowledge to one who fosters thinking. Most importantly, we must ensure our practice gives each and every student the opportunity to learn, grow and achieve at high levels while providing opportunities to develop their agency and authority in the classroom, which results in a positive math identity. Whether you are a brand new teacher or a veteran, if you find teaching math to be quite the challenge, this is the guide you want by your side. Designed for just-in-time learning and support, this practical resource gives you brief, actionable answers to your most pressing questions about teaching elementary math. Written by four experienced math educators representing diverse experiences, these authors offer the practical advice they wish they received years ago from lessons they've learned over decades of practice, research, coaching and through collaborating with teams, teachers and colleagues, especially new teachers every day. Questions and answers are organized into five areas of effort that will help you most thrive in your elementary math classroom: 1. How do I build a positive math community? 2. How do I structure, organize and manage my math class? 3. How do I engage my students in math? 4.

How do I help my students talk about math 5 How do I know what my students know and move them forward Woven throughout you ll find helpful sidebar notes on fostering identity and agency access and equity teaching in different settings and invaluable resources for deeper learning The final question Where do I go from here offers guidance for growing your practice over time Strive to become the best math educator you can be your students are counting on it What will be your first step on the journey Connect Teachers Edition 3 Jack C.
