WA461.1 Policy

(a) State office staff, technical support staff, and all team specialists will make trip reports when one or more of the following conditions exist:

(1) When particularly noteworthy or special progress has been accomplished in items such as quantity of work, quality of work, training, and working relationships.

(2) When unique or unusual kinds of problems, situations, techniques, or procedures have been noted.

(3) When deficiencies or needs for improvement have been noted that are of the nature that should be brought to the attention of others and/or of the type for which definite and specific follow-up is needed.

(4) When requested at the discretion of the supervisor or participants.

(b) Trip reports are not required where repetitive trips are made to the same location or project to collect data or make routine studies such as in the development of watershed work plans, river basin studies, program or functional inspections, or soil survey progress reviews. Reports are not required covering attendance at in-service meetings such as team meetings and workshops where an agenda has been developed prior to the meeting.

(c) Staff members who attend or participate in interagency meetings or conferences should report significant developments to their supervisors. These reports may be either oral or written as circumstances require, but need not be in the usual trip report format.

(d) When assistance is provided by a team of two or more, only the spokesperson or project or team leader need report.

Federalism of Wetlands Ryan Taylor,2014-07-17 This book investigates the consequences of redundant state and federal environmental regulations in the United States Drawing on the most exhaustive statistical analysis of US federal wetland permits ever constructed the book uncovers the disjointed world of wetland regulation The author starts by examining the socioeconomic and environmental factors driving individuals to apply for environmental regulatory permits and the regional inconsistencies encountered in federal environmental regulatory program performance The book goes on to demonstrate that states have more power in federal relationships than scholars often believe and that individual state policies are important even in a time of strong federal governance Evidence shows that such intergovernmental redundancy serves to increase overall regulatory program effectiveness This book breaks new ground in the subjects of federalism and environmental regulation by rejecting the traditional approach of picking winners and losers in favour of a nuanced demonstration of how redundancy and collaboration between different levels of governance can make for more effective governmental programs The book is also innovative in its use of the perspectives of regulated citizens not as a point of judgment but as a means of introducing a constructive new way of thinking about political and administrative boundaries within a federalist system of governance The book provides relevant context to wider political debates about excessive and duplicative regulatory oversight and will be of interest to Environmental Policy students and administrators
