English Church Woodwork Frank E. Howard, Frederick Herbert Crossley, 1919 Unsurpassed in the years since its first publication in 1917 English Church Woodwork is the definitive guide to the ornate craftsmanship of the Gothic period FH Crossley spent over twenty years recording measuring and photographing churches across England and Wales from his archive of over 10 000 pictures the 380 reproduced here show the finest examples Accompanied throughout by FE Howard's clear and authoritative text the survey includes rood screens misericords quire stalls pulpits lecterns doorways and font covers highlighting both the incredible levels of skill and fascinating regional variations in the woodwork English Church Woodwork is both ambitiously wide in scope and satisfyingly comprehensive a fitting tribute to what is arguably the finest legacy of the medieval ages

Crafts and Social Networks in Viking Towns Stephen P. Ashby, Søren Sindbaek, 2020-02-19 Crafting Communities explores the interface between craft communication networks and urbanization in Viking age Northern Europe Viking period towns were the hubs of cross cultural communication of their age and innovations in specialized crafts provide archaeologists with some of the best evidence for studying this communication The integrated results presented in these papers have been made possible through the sustained collaboration of a group of experts with complementary insights into individual crafts Results emerge from recent scholarly advances in the study of artifacts and production first the application of new analytical techniques in artifact studies e.g. metallographic isotopic and biomolecular techniques and second the shifted in interpretative focus of medieval artifact studies from a concern with object function to considerations of processes of production and of the social agency of technology Furthermore the introduction of social network theory and actor network theory has redirected attention toward the process of communication and highlighted the significance of material culture in the learning and transmission of cultural knowledge including technology The volume brings together leading UK and Scandinavian archaeological specialists to explore crafted products and workshop assemblages from these towns in order to clarify how such long range communication worked in pre modern Northern Europe Contributors assess the implications for our understanding of early towns and the long term societal change catalysed by them including the initial steps towards commercial economies Results are analyzed in relation to social network theory social and economic history and models of communication setting an agenda for further research Crafting

Communities provides a landmark statement on our knowledge of Viking Age craft and communication      The Craftsman, 1904 An illustrated monthly magazine in the interest of better art better work and a better more reasonable way of living

Arts and Crafts Architecture Maureen Meister, 2014-11-04 This book offers the first full scale examination of the architecture associated with the Arts and Crafts movement that spread throughout New England at the turn of the twentieth century Although interest in the Arts and Crafts movement has grown since the 1970s the literature on New England has focused on craft production Meister traces the history of the movement from its origins in mid nineteenth century England to its arrival in the United States and describes how Boston architects including H H Richardson embraced its tenets in the 1870s and 1880s She then turns to the next generation of designers examining buildings by twelve of the region s most prominent architects eleven men and a woman who assumed leadership roles in the Society of Arts and Crafts founded in Boston in 1897 Among them are Ralph Adams Cram Lois Lilley Howe Charles Maginnis and H Langford Warren They promoted designs based on historical precedent and the region s heritage while encouraging well executed ornament Meister also discusses revered cultural personalities who influenced the architects notably Ralph Waldo Emerson and art historian Charles Eliot Norton as well as contemporaries who shared their concerns such as Louis Brandeis Conservative though the architects were in the styles they favored they also were forward looking blending Arts and Crafts values with Progressive Era idealism Open to new materials and building types they made lasting contributions with many of their designs now landmarks honored in cities and towns across New England      The Encyclopaedic Dictionary in the Eighteenth Century: Architecture, Arts and Crafts: v. 1: John Harris and the Lexicon Technicum Terence M. Russell, 2018-11-08 First published in 1997 this volume examines two of Sir Francis Bacon s civil essays Sir Henry Wotton s The Elements of Architecture and John Harris Lexicon Technicum parts I and II

Architecture and the Arts and Crafts Movement in Boston Maureen Meister, 2003 H Langford Warren 1857 1917 was an important link in the chain of individuals who contributed to the architectural practice theories of design and the teaching of architectural history in the United States at the turn of the twentieth century Best known in the Boston area Warren first worked under the renowned architect Henry Hobson Richardson before establishing his own practice Friends and colleagues during this period included Charles Eliot Norton the noted art historian and Harvard s Charles Herbert Moore a leading Ruskinian painter Hired by Harvard University in 1893 Warren developed its architectural curriculum In 1897 he helped found Boston s Society of Arts and Crafts At the time of his death in 1917 Warren was Dean of the School of Architecture at Harvard and President of the Society of Arts and Crafts At the turn of the century Warren s philosophical vision offered a conservative and ethnocentric perspective attractive to many Bostonians and to a significant segment of Americans nationwide According to this view English culture was the basis of American culture Through his work at Harvard and in the Arts and Crafts movement he articulated and promoted an aesthetic guided by an attachment to the past and he encouraged his students at Harvard to revive and reinterpret English and Anglo American models Another characteristic of Warren s aesthetic was restraint a quality generally attributed to the region s Puritan settlers Restraint also meant a rejection of both the lavish ornamentation of the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris and the more original styles such as Art Nouveau that were emerging at the turn of the century Following the ideals of John Ruskin William Morris and later leaders of the English Arts and Crafts movement Warren and his architect colleagues promoted a close collaboration with the craftsmen who enhanced their buildings The resulting building designs represent a significant contribution to the development of American Arts and Crafts architecture complementing the proto modern work of designers such as Frank Lloyd Wright In fact Arts and Crafts architecture in North America was extremely diverse Meister examines the greater complexity of this architecture by exploring the eclectic historicism of Warren a key figure in the movement that was centered in Boston

English Arts & Crafts Furniture Nancy R. Hiller, 2018-06-26 Arts Crafts has come to be a name for a style of decorative arts but just try to pin it down It s a huge challenge because it encompasses such a broad variety of work Early pieces such as some of those by William Morris draw from more ornate Victorian artifacts Contrast these with the simpler medieval inspired work of Morris the austere elegance of chairs and built in cabinetry by Voysey or furniture produced by the Barnsleys never mind the clear Art Nouveau influences in much of Mackintosh s work It quickly becomes clear just how broad this period in design history really is English Arts Crafts Furniture explores the Arts Crafts movement with a unique perspective on furniture designs inspired by English Arts Crafts designers Through examination of details and techniques as well as projects you ll learn what sets English Arts Crafts apart and gain a deeper understanding of the overall Arts Crafts movement and its influences In this book you ll find Insight into the history and culture surrounding the Arts Crafts movement An examination of influences that set English Arts Crafts designers including William Morris Charles Francis Annesley Voysey Ernest Gimson Ernest and Sidney Barnsley and Charles Robert Ashbee apart from their American counterparts 3 complete furniture projects that illustrate traits representative of English Arts Crafts a Voysey chair a hayrake table designed by Ernest Gimson and a sideboard design from the Harris Lebus company England s largest furniture maker at the time Equal parts design survey and project book English Arts Crafts Furniture is a must read for any serious fan of Arts Crafts furniture
