

CHIEFTAIN VERSUS OTHER HIGH-STORAGE MOTOR HOMES

How high storage motor homes increase the storage space by substantially increasing the height, which may affect handling and stability.

Because the Chieftain was designed from the ground up as a high storage, low profile motor home, Roadway's engineers were able to keep the roof height low.

Chieftain has a lower center of gravity and reduced weight of more than most listed motor homes.

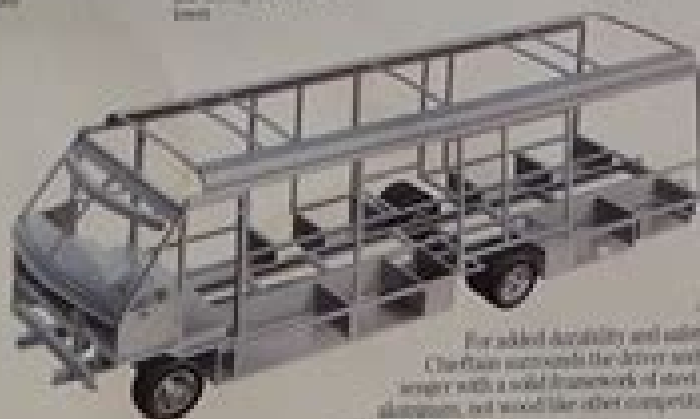

Chieftain's smooth, single piece aluminum, with no exposed steel in most joints, improves Chieftain's looks and provides protection from rust.

The interior storage bins have up to twice the space of a standard motor home and add many convenient details. All the space is easily accessible.

Compared to other motor homes, Chieftain's design is one that achieves the most storage high storage motor homes.

Because they designed Chieftain from the ground up, Roadway's engineers were able to increase the floor height of the motor home by 10 inches, which created more storage space. The motor home's weight and the smooth, sturdy and safe.

The motor home's low roof, with no exposed beams, further reduces Chieftain's height for the road.

For added durability and safety the Chieftain motor home has the driver and passengers with a solid framework of steel and aluminum, not wood like other competitive motor homes.

The storage compartments are framed with ribbed, galvanized steel panels for extra strength and durability. The reinforced steel floor runs between the chassis rails to allow more even heat distribution and efficient use of interior space.
