New Perspectives on Affect and Learning Technologies Rafael A.

Calvo, Sidney K. D'Mello, 2011-07-15 This monograph integrates theoretical perspectives on affect and learning with recent research in affective computing with an emphasis on building new learning technologies The new perspectives come from the intersection of several research themes Basic research on emotion cognition and motivation applied to learning environments Pedagogical and motivational strategies that are sensitive to affective and cognitive processes Multimodal Human Computer Interfaces with a focus on affect recognition and synthesis Recent advances in affect sensitive Intelligent Tutoring Systems Novel methodologies to investigate affect and learning Neuroscience research on emotions and learning      Accounting Education Seedwell Tanaka Muyako Sithole, Indra Abeysekera, 2017-02-24 This book provides a comprehensive and critical overview of learning accounting It illustrates that when learners need to mentally integrate two or more distinct items of information it places unnecessary demands on cognitive load The book discusses the cognitive load theory which assumes that the task of mental integration increases the load on already limited working memory and it does so to such an extent that learning may be severely impeded The book also investigates how students could deal with cognitive overload when learning introductory accounting using three instructional design formats the split attention format the integrated format and the self managed format      Aircraft Manual for Inspection, Maintenance and Repair Jack Lincke, 1935

Instructing and Testing Advanced Learners Slava Kalyuga, 2006 When we learn new and complex materials our cognitive processing capabilities are usually severely reduced due to limited working memory capacity Learner expertise in a specific domain decreases those limitations by enabling the use of the expert's organised knowledge base In many instructional situations however expertise may also trigger additional cognitive load because of the processing of redundant information Recently strong evidence has emerged that instructional techniques which are highly effective with novice learners can lose their effectiveness and even have negative consequences when used with advanced learners As learners become more knowledgeable in a domain instructional techniques and procedures often need to change radically in order to remain efficient To tailor instruction to levels of learner knowledge in computer based learning environments it is critical to have a simple and rapid measure of learner expertise suitable for real time testing research based recommendations on instructional techniques and diagnostic assessment methods that are suitable for advanced learners in multimedia learning environments      Automotive Electricity and Electronics Barry Hollembeak, Jack Erjavec, 1997 This outstanding text
