Students experience
discovery first-hand
through an inquiry-
based approach to learning. They develop a deep understanding of the concepts and
processes of science
through hands-on experiments and projects. They learn
to work in teams,
communicate their
findings, and
solve problems.

Disadvantage: That old familiar feeling, especially among African Americans, that you are playing the system, you wish to continue to participate because it is familiar to
you. There is nothing new about you, there always has been something new
to allow people from underprivileged areas
something of a different view. And though you know the reality of things is not ideal, you
must play the system
to achieve your goals.
This reality
