by the public It is perceived as a tool for improvement and evaluators are seen as dedicated to using their knowledge for the benefit of society The book examines the degree to which evaluators seek power for their own interests This perspective is based on a simple assumption If you are in possession of an asset that can give you power why not use it for your own interests Can we really trust evaluation to be a force for the good To what degree can we talk about self interest in evaluation and is this self interest something that contradicts other interests such as the benefit of society Such questions and others are addressed in this brilliant innovative international collection of pioneering contributions
