1. The Random Walks Model goes automatically through all the assets for the Risk Manager since there is no filter. It is the easiest method, but it will sometimes take longer than some of the other programming methods.
2. The Global Value Models work through the codes for every type of security. It is as easy as the random walk model, but it can be faster.
3. The Global Value Models are very similar to a model that the programming team has for each trade strategy. It is not as easy as the other methods, but it is probably the fastest method.
4. The Global Value Models are also manually performed through all the assets for the Risk Manager since there is no filter.
