Post-Conflict Development in East Asia Brendan M. Howe,2016-04-08
East Asia is a region deeply affected by conflict Colonial ideological and national wars have left their scars and legacies on regional international and national governance Yet East Asian post conflict development experiences have been viewed as remarkably successful The three largest economies of East Asia Japan China and South Korea have all experienced dramatic growth but immediately prior to their periods of expansion all experienced the devastating impacts of international conflicts and or civil upheaval These post conflict development success stories do not however tell the whole tale Other states in East Asia and in particular certain regions within some of these states while apparently emerging from similar conflictual backgrounds have experienced far less positive transitions This volume critically assesses measurements of success in East Asian post conflict development from a human centered perspective This involves a major re evaluation of accepted accounts of domestic governance and international relations in East Asia from both a comparative and inter disciplinary viewpoint Case study rich this volume provides policy prescriptions for East Asian donors and actors in an effort to provide Asian solutions for Asian problems

The Routledge Handbook of Tourism in Asia C. Michael Hall, Stephen J. Page, 2016-09-13 Asia is regarded as the fastest growing area for international and domestic tourism in the world today and over the next 20 years Given the economic social and environmental importance of tourism in the region there is a need for a comprehensive and readable overview of the critical debates and controversies in tourism in the region and the major factors that are affecting tourism development both now and in the foreseeable future This Handbook provides a contemporary survey of the region and its continued growth and development as a key destination and generator of tourism which is marked by a high proportion of intra regional travel The book is divided into five sections This first section provides an introduction to the region and context to the nationally focused chapters The next three sections are then broadly based on the three UNWTO Asian regions South East Asia South and Central Asia and East and North East Asia providing readers with a valuable snapshot of tourism at various scales and from various approaches and positions The concluding section considers future prospects for tourism in Asia The handbook is interdisciplinary in coverage and is also international in scope through its authorship and content It presents a range of perspectives and understanding of the processes and forces that are shaping tourism in this fascinating and dynamic region that is one of the focal points of global tourism This is essential reading for students researchers and academics interested in tourism in the growth region of Asia now and in the future

Ie Ess Wor Reg Geog W/Cd Salter, 2002-08 Marketing Michael Baker, 1998 Marketing Managerial Foundations provides students with a sound understanding of marketing theory and practice and does so in an Australian and New Zealand context It is an introductory text that goes beyond the prescriptive approach It seeks to meet the needs of a discipline that is now accepted as a fundamental aspect of business and one which needs and deserves an academic base of context concept and application No theoretical stone is left unturned as good practice is supported by essential theoretical frameworks Students will find more discussion of the various arguments that provide views on the foundations and application of marketing Concepts such as relationship marketing are traced and explored The book provides a strong foundation for the study of marketing and is essential reading for the newcomer to marketing as well as being a valuable reference for the marketing professional

IAPSM's Textbook of Community Medicine AM Kadri, 2019-06-30 Guide for the Selection of Drug Detectors for Law Enforcement Applications John E. Parmeter, 2000 ASEAN Biodiversity, 2001 China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia Romi Jain, 2021-05-17 This empirical work illuminates how China uses the higher education mechanism in South Asia to advance its national interests and investigates the outcomes for China including both challenges and opportunities Using a soft power theoretical framework this book employs the case study of Nepal a South Asian country of profound geostrategic value for the two competing powers of China and India Illustrating how higher education is the mechanism for achieving soft power goals it draws on data analysis based on archival sources and interviews with China and South Asia experts including academics and politico bureaucratic elites as well as interviews with Nepalese students and alumni. Importantly though this book advances an innovative conceptual model of geointellect to trace the evolving dimensions of China's global dominance in higher education research and innovation paradigm especially in the context of the Belt and Road Initiative and ultimately reveals how foreign policy and higher education policy reinforce each other in the context of China's Soft Power and Higher Education in South Asia provides an empirically rich resource for students and scholars of education international relations Asian studies and China's soft power

Foreign Nonindigenous Carps and Minnows (cyprinidae) in the United States Pamela J. Schofield, 2005

Transnational Frontiers of Asia and Latin America since 1800 Jaime Moreno Tejada, Bradley Tatar, 2016-08-19 Frontiers are wild. The frontier is a zone of interaction between distinct polities, peoples, languages, ecosystems, and economies, but how do these frontier spaces develop? If the frontier is shaped by the policing of borders by the modern nation state, then what kind of zones, regions, or cultural areas are created around borders? This book provides 16 different case studies of frontiers in Asia and Latin America by interdisciplinary scholars charting the first steps toward a transnational and transcontinental history of social development in the borderlands of two continents.

Transnationalism provides a shared focus for the contributions, drawing upon diverse theoretical perspectives to examine the place-making projects of nation states. Through the lenses of different scales and time frames, the contributors examine the social processes of frontier life and how the frontiers have been created through the exertions of nation states to control marginal or borderland peoples. The most significant cases of industrialization, resource extraction, and colonization projects in Asia and Latin America are examined in this book, revealing the incompleteness of frontiers as modernist spatial projects but also their creativity as sources of new social patterns, new human adaptations, and new cultural outlooks and ways of confronting power and privilege. The incompleteness of frontiers does not detract from their power to move ideas, peoples, and practices across borders, both territorial and conceptual. In bringing together Asian and Latin American cases of frontier making, this book points toward a comparativist and cosmopolitan approach in the study of statecraft and modernity. For scholars of Latin America and/or Asia, it brings together historical themes and geographic foci, providing studies accessible to researchers in anthropology, geography, history, politics, cultural studies, and other fields of the human sciences.

The Fiction Gateway Suzanne Eberlé, Noelle Williamson, 2009-04-01 In this guide to children's literature, two experienced school librarians set out to answer the question, "What's a good book for me to read next?" by providing a selection of books for librarians, teachers, and parents from which to choose the most appropriate book. The Fiction Gateway is an essential resource that supports individual, group, and social reading programs and provides an instant guide to matching children's interests with suitable reading material. Each entry contains a brief synopsis of the plot, publisher details, theme correlations, concepts, and reading level. Questions for discussion, an excerpt, range of post-reading activities.

Tourism, Poverty and Development Andrew Holden, 2013-07-18 This book provides a holistic, explicit, and detailed introduction to the relationship of poverty and tourism development within the context of developing countries The book is divided into three distinct sections progressing from an evaluation of the key concepts the causal factors of poverty and how tourism is being implemented in policy and practice to the relationship of tourism and poverty in the future The theoretical framework inherent to the text is inter disciplinary incorporating tourism geography politics economics environmental studies development studies sociology and history literature to provide the reader with a range of perspectives from which to explore the key issues of the tourism and poverty relationship It integrates examples and original case studies from varying geographical developing regions including Latin American Asia and Africa to show practical insights into tourism s role in poverty alleviation To encourage reflection on the main themes addressed and critical thinking Think points discussion questions and links to further reading are included in each chapter
