El-Sayed,1994-02-24 BIOMASS Biological Investigations of Marine Antarctic Systems and Stocks was a unique large scale long term international research programme established in 1977 to investigate the ecology of the Southern Ocean Its main aim was to gain a greater understanding of the biological systems and stocks in the marine Antarctic environment thereby providing a sound basis for the future management of the living resources within this immense ocean The programme was drawn to a close in 1991 and its completion marked by a colloquium which brought together key researchers to summarise and review the results obtained This volume arising from that colloquium provides a succinct state of the art account of the ecology of the Southern Ocean and serves as a comprehensive record of this unique and successful international project

Southern Ocean: Meeting the Challenge for Conserving Earth Ecosystems in the Long Term Monica M. C.
Muelbert,2024-12-24 National and international agencies need assessments of change in ecosystems and their drivers in order to sustain natural systems to maintain the delivery of services and to meet the challenge for conserving Earth ecosystems in the long term In marine systems change may arise directly from human activities e g fisheries indirectly from local or global activities cascading effects through food webs from fisheries or changing environments from climate change and or ocean acidification or from naturally varying processes A particular challenge for managers is to identify how dangerous future climate change will be for ecosystems and their services and whether mitigation or adaptation may be needed in advance in order to achieve the conservation requirements For regions of international attention particularly those that have the attention of many management or policy oriented bodies a standardized process is needed to harmonize the scientific information on the status and trends in ecosystems used by the different bodies That process also needs to ensure the information is available in a timely manner For example assessments of change in habitats species and or food webs in the Southern Ocean are currently compiled separately for at least ten different international organizations or processes A Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean MEASO aims to harmonize that information for policy makers This assessment began with an international conference in April 2018 <http://www.measo2018.aq> where it was agreed to undertake the first MEASO over 2018-2019 with the view to provide the outcomes to relevant bodies such as the Scientific Committee for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources soon after The Quest for the Golden Trout Douglas M. Thompson, 2013-09-22 The angler's dream of fishing pristine waters in unspoiled country for sleek healthy trout has turned fishing into a form of theater It is a manufactured experience much to the detriment of our rivers and streams Americans love of trout has reached a level of fervor that borders on the religious Federal and state agencies as well as nongovernmental lobbying groups invest billions of dollars on river restoration projects and fish stocking programs Yet their decisions are based on faulty logic and risk destroying species they are tasked with protecting River ecosystems are modified with engineered structures to improve fishing native species that compete with trout are eradicated and nonnative invasive game fish are indiscriminately introduced genetically modified and selectively bred to produce more appealing targets for anglers including the freakishly contrived golden trout The Quest for the Golden Trout is about looking at our nation's rivers with a more critical eye and asking more questions about both historic and current practices in fisheries management Outer Continental Shelf Oil and Gas Activities in the Pacific (Southern California) and Their Onshore Impacts George S.
