Reimagining Rapport Zane Goebel, 2021-01-18 To do ethnography a researcher must have rapport with research subjects But what is rapport Ethnography and ethnographic methods have increasingly become a feature of social inquiry in general and sociolinguistics in particular and rapport is generally considered a prerequisite for fieldwork And yet unlike related terms such as communication and phatic communion this concept has remained largely unexamined Reimagining Rapport turns a critical eye to the use of the term rapport across disciplines The collection analyzes the very idea of rapport both exploring how it has been shaped by historical forces and actors within sociocultural anthropology and questioning its usefulness Rather than viewing the term as simply denoting a type of positive social relationship that needs to be formed between researcher and consultant before research can begin this book invites us to reimagine rapport theoretically methodologically and meta methodologically Zane Goebel and other leading sociolinguists challenge readers to think about how rapport has been constructed within these disciplines and ultimately to see rapport as an emergent co constructed social relationship that is actively built during situated multimodal encounters The contributors collectively examine the role of ideology and mediation in the construction of rapport and argue that reconceptualizing research subject relationships is essential for establishing more sophisticated ways of understanding interpreting and representing research context A valuable resource for scholars and students of sociolinguistics and linguistic anthropology as well as for others engaged in ethnographic fieldwork Reimagining Rapport is the first collection to provide an in depth investigation of this critically important but previously unexamined concept

Rapport Emily Alison, Laurence Alison, 2020-07-30 Laurence Alison is one of my academic heroes He does what every writer longs to do He makes the difficult clear without losing his rigour Malcolm Gladwell They are quietly revolutionising the study and practice of interrogation Their findings are changing the way law enforcement and security agencies approach the delicate and vital task of gathering human intelligence Guardian Get what you want from even the most difficult characters All of us have to deal with difficult people Whether we're asking our neighbour to move a fence or our boss for a pay rise we can struggle to avoid arguments and get what we want Laurence and Emily Alison are world leaders in forensic psychology and they specialise in the most difficult interactions imaginable criminal interrogations They advise and train the police security agencies the FBI and the CIA on how to deal with extremely dangerous suspects when the stakes are high After 30 years work and unprecedented access to 2 000 hours of terrorist interrogations they have developed a ground breaking model of interpersonal communication This deceptively simple approach to handling any encounter works as well for teenagers as it does for terrorists Now it's time to share it with the world Rapport reveals that every interaction follows four styles Control the lion Capitulate the mouse Confront the Tyrannosaurus and Co operate the monkey As soon as you understand these styles and your own goals you can shape any conversation at will And you'll be closer to the real secret how to create instant rapport

Reading the past, writing the future UNESCO,2017-04-10 Aucune information saisie , Rapport and the Discursive Co-Construction of Social Relations in Fieldwork Encounters Zane Goebel,2019-08-19 In accounts of ethnographic fieldwork and textbooks on ethnography we often find the notion of rapport used to describe social relationships in the field Frequently rapport between researcher and researched is invoked as a prerequisite to be achieved before fieldwork can start or used as evidence to judge the value and robustness of an ethnography With few exceptions and despite regular pleas to do so ethnographers continue to avoid presenting any discursive evidence of what rapport might look like from an interactional perspective In a sense the uncritical acceptance of rapport as a fieldwork goal and measure has helped hide the discursive work that goes on in the field In turn this has privileged ideas about identity as portable rather than portable and emergent and reports of social life as more important than how such reports emerge Written for all those who engage or plan to engage in ethnographic fieldwork this collection examines how social relationships dialogically emerge in fieldwork settings Reading at the Limits of Poetic Form Jacob McGuinn,2024-05-15 Pushing the boundaries of critical reading and the role of objects in literature How does literary objecthood contend with the challenge of writing objects that emerge at an extreme limit of material presence Jacob McGuinn delves into the ways literature writes this indeterminate presence in the context of pre and post 68 Paris a vital moment in the history of criticism The works of poet Paul Celan philosopher Theodor Adorno and writer Maurice Blanchot highlight how the complexities of reading such a dematerialized object are part of the indeterminacy of material itself Indeterminate objects glass snow walls screens are subjects Celan describes as existing in meridian space while for Adorno and Blanchot criticism not only responds to this indeterminacy but also takes it as its condition Reading at the Limits of Poetic Form Dematerialization in Adorno Blanchot and Celan shows how these readings simultaneously limit the object of criticism and outline alternative ways of thinking that lie between the models of critical formalism and historicism ultimately revealing the possible materiality of literature in unrealized history incomplete politics and nondetermining thinking

Rethinking Second Language Learning Marisa Cordella,Hui Huang,2016-05-19 This book evaluates a project where formal classroom learning of a second language was supplemented with informal natural interactions with older native speakers of the target language delivering a number of pedagogical and societal benefits The authors introduce a model of intergenerational intercultural encounters which aims to promote the use of community language resources enrich the experiences of young learners foster greater understanding between generations break down cultural stereotypes encourage appreciation of different cultures and enhance the quality of life and community engagement of older people with a bi multilingual background It draws on theories of language acquisition discourse analysis and psychosocial perspectives to propose a model of language learning for students that can be used for any language or locality It is therefore an essential resource for graduate students researchers and language teachers as well as for education aged and youth care policy makers practitioners and community services workers who are interested in innovative language pedagogy In Defense of

Read-Aloud Steven Layne, 2023-10-10 As accountability measures for schools and teachers continue to grow instructional practice is under the microscope The practice of reading aloud to children may be viewed by some educators as an extra bit of fluff used solely for the purposes of enjoyment or filling a few spare minutes but researchers and practitioners stand in solidarity the practice of reading aloud throughout the grades is not only viable but also best practice In Defense of Read Aloud Sustaining Best Practices author Steven Layne reinforces readers confidence to continue the practice of reading aloud and presents the research base to defend the practice in grades K12 Layne also offers significant practical insights to strengthen instructional practice answering the questions of Why should we and How should we and provides practical advice about how to use read alouds most effectively Leading researchers in the field of literacy provide position statements authors of professional books share insights on books they have loved leaders of the largest literacy organizations in the United States write about their favorite read alouds award winning authors of children s and young adult book Katherine Paterson Andrew Clements Lois Lowry to name a few share the powerful behind the scenes stories of their greatest books and real classroom teachers and librarians speak about books that have lit up their classrooms and libraries around the world Last but not least In Defense of Read Aloud features many great recommendations of books to share with children Read aloud is an essential practice in teaching literacy in grades K 12 In this book Steven Layne has provided everything needed to support sustain and celebrate the power of read aloud

Mangaddicts: French Teenagers and Manga Reading

Christine D trez, Olivier Vanh e, 2023-05-25 Just pronounce the word manga and conflicted representations of media reception emerge either passive teenagers immersed in Japanese fictional worlds or hyperactive fans To understand what drives a variety of teenagers to read manga we conducted empirical research among French readers enrolled in secondary schools Manga is part of a whole constellation of interests including music and digital technology It is also the object of analytical ethical or concrete appropriations Reading then becomes a way to deal with past experiences and to connect with others to learn how to express emotions and to assert or contest age and gender norms

Plotting the Reading Experience
Paulette M. Rothbauer, Kjell Ivar Skjerdingsstad, Lynne (E.F.) McKechnie, Knut Oterholm, 2016-06-30 This book is about the experience of reading what reading feels like how it makes people feel how people read and under what conditions what drives people to read and conversely what halts the individual in the pursuit of the pleasures of reading The authors consider reading in all of its richness as they explore readers relationships with diverse textual and digital forms This edited volume is divided into three sections Theory Practice and Politics The first provides insights into ways of seeing thinking and conceptualizing the experience of reading The second features a variety of individual and social practices of reading The third explores the political and ethical aspects of the reading experience raising questions about the role that reading plays in democracy and civic participation With contributions from multidisciplinary scholars from around the world this book provides provocative insights into what it means to be a reader reading in and across various social cultural and political contexts Its unifying theme of the reader s experience of reading is put into dialogue with theories practices and politics making this a rewarding read for graduate students faculty researchers and librarians working across a range of academic fields

Scripting Reading Motions Manuel Portela,2013-09-13 An exploration of what experimental literature in both print and programmable media tells us about the act of reading In Scripting Reading Motions Manuel Portela explores the expressive use of book forms and programmable media in experimental works of both print and electronic literature and finds a self conscious play with the dynamics of reading and writing Portela examines a series of print and digital works by Johanna Drucker Mark Z Danielewski Rui Torres Jim Andrews and others for the insights they yield about the semiotic and interpretive actions through which readers produce meaning when interacting with codes Analyzing these works as embodiments and simulations of the motions of reading Portela pays particular attention to the ways in which awareness of eye movements and haptic interactions in both print and electronic media feeds back onto the material and semantic layers of the works These feedbacks he argues sustain self reflexive loops that link the body of the reader to the embodied work Readers haptic actions and eye movements coinstantiate the object that they are reading Portela discusses typographic and graphic marks as choreographic notations for reading movements examines digital recreations of experimental print literary artifacts considers reading motions in kinetic and generated texts analyzes the relationship of bibliographic linguistic and narrative coding in Danielewski s novel poem Only Revolutions and describes emergent meanings in interactive textual instruments The expressive use of print and programmable media Portela shows offers a powerful model of the semiotic interpretive and affective operations embodied in reading processes Important Notice The digital edition of this book is missing some of the images found in the physical edition

Jokey Horse-Jockey
North-South Rapport Mhango, Nkwazi,2018-06-08 No doubt North South relationship involving poor and rich countries is very convoluted based and built on exploitative unequal and unfair equilibria It is purely jockey horse like connubium that serves one party as it disserves the other This is why deconstructing and detoxifying this relationship is sine qua non The author argues that the parties in this relationship must revisit it to make sure it equally benefits both for the benefit of the whole world. Importantly the major question posed is Why did the two global halves maintain and tolerate such toxic rapport while knowingly it is but colonial and unjust. The question is answered in this academic treatise which asks the parties to hark back and thereby do justice to each other by viewing themselves as humans with shared needs and future whose lesson from the past may buttress them to be major thespians in realising world peace. This is because their parasitic relationship has fueled many conflicts revolving around the struggle for controlling resources in the South in order to sell to the North.

The Bible and Digital Millennials David G. Ford, Joshua L. Mann, Peter M. Phillips, 2019-03-04. The Bible and Digital Millennials explores the place of the Bible in the lives of 18 to 35 year olds who have been born into the digital age. As the use of digital media becomes increasingly pervasive it should follow that it will have a significant effect on people's engagement with religion and the sacred texts associated with it. Drawing on contemporary in depth surveys this study unpacks digital millennials' stance towards use of and engagement with the Bible in both offline and online settings. The book features results from a nationally representative survey of 2 000 young British people specifically commissioned for this project. The data is also compared with the findings of others including a poll of 850 British Bible centric Christians and recent Bible engagement surveys from the USA. This book investigates the relevance of the Bible to the lives of those who have grown up in the digital age. It will therefore offer fresh insight to any scholar of biblical studies, religion and digital media and religious studies.

Reading Proclus and the Book of Causes Volume 1 Dragos Calma, 2019-05-15. Reading Proclus and the Book of Causes published in three volumes is a fresh comprehensive understanding of Proclus' legacy in the Hellenic, Byzantine, Islamic, Latin and Hebrew traditions. The history of the Book of Causes, an Islamic adaptation of mainly Proclus' Elements of Theology and Plotinus' Enneads, is reconsidered on the basis of newly discovered manuscripts. This first volume enriches our understanding of the diverse reception of Proclus' Elements of Theology and of the Book of Causes in the Western tradition where universities and religious schools offered unparalleled conditions of diffusion. The volume sheds light on overlooked authors, texts, literary genres and libraries from all major European universities from the 12th to the 16th centuries.

Christianity and Controversies over Homosexuality in Contemporary Africa Ezra Chitando, Adriaan van Klinken, 2016-05-12. Issues of homosexuality are the subject of public and political controversy in many African societies today. Frequently these controversies receive widespread attention both locally and globally such as with the Anti Homosexuality Bill in Uganda. In the international media these cases tend to be presented as revealing a deeply rooted homophobia in Africa fuelled by religious and cultural traditions. But so far little energy is expended in understanding these controversies in all their complexity and the critical role religion plays in them. Complementing the companion volume Public Religion and the Politics of Homosexuality in Africa, this book investigates Christian politics and discourses on homosexuality in sub-Saharan Africa. The contributors present case studies from various African countries from Nigeria to South Africa and from Cameroon.

to Uganda focusing on Pentecostal Catholic and mainline Protestant churches They critically examine popular Christian theologies that perpetuate homophobia and discrimination but they also discuss contestations of such discourses and emerging alternative Christian perspectives that contribute to the recognition of sexual diversity social justice and human rights in contemporary Africa Progress toward a Literate World Amber Gove, April Mora, Peggy McCardle, 2017-04-10
