Finance, Governance and Economic Performance in Pacific and South East Asia David G. Dickinson, J.L. Ford, the late M.J. Fry, Andrew W. Mullineux, S. Sen, 2000-01-01 this is an interesting and valuable collection of papers that addresses a highly topical area of research The quality of writing is high in the main and the econometric methodology and models transparent The appendices to many of the empirical chapters provide detailed information about data sources as well as model results The book should be required reading for researchers and graduate students in this field and the review papers provide valuable teaching material It will be especially useful for those concerned with the contribution of governance structures to economic performance financial crises and the still disputed relationship between growth and financial liberalization Jenifer Piesse Asia Pacific Business Review Finance Governance and Economic Performance in Pacific and South East Asia focuses on key aspects of government policy financial systems and their links to the economic miracle in Pacific and South East Asia It also considers the financial crises that have affected those economies and their economic progress The contributors examine the success of governance in the form of government involvement with the macroeconomy and with the deregulation of markets in general Attention is drawn not only to the need for further liberalisation but also the need to introduce regulatory structures to produce orderly markets Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services, 1969 The British Official Film in South-East Asia Ian Aitken, 2016-11-22 This book explores the ways in which the British official film was used in Malaya Malaysia Singapore and Hong Kong from 1945 to the 1970s Aitken uncovers how the British official film and British official information agencies adapted to the epochal contexts of the Cold War and end of empire In addition to an extensive introduction which touches on a number of critical issues related to the post war British official film the book provides an account of how the tradition of film making associated with the British documentary film movement spread into the region during the post war period and how that tradition was contested by a Colonial Office tradition of film making The volume concludes by covering the rise of television in the region within the context of developing post colonial authoritarian states in Singapore and Malaysia and the continuation of colonial authoritarianism in Hong Kong Defence and Decolonisation in South-East Asia Karl Hack, 2013-12-16 This book explains why British defence policy and practice emerged as it did in the period 1941-67 by looking at the overlapping of colonial military economic and Cold War factors in the area Its main focus is on the 1950s and the decolonisation era but it argues that the plans and conditions of this period can only be understood by tracing them back to their origins in the fall of Singapore Also it shows how decolonisation was shaped not just by British aims but by the way communism communalism and nationalism facilitated and frustrated these Hearings Before and Special Reports Made by Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives on Subjects Affecting the Naval and Military Establishments, 1969 Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Armed Services United States.
