COMMENTS	Here's another perfect set of results for your Prius. Very nice! Wear metals in this latest sample are even lower than usual, so the mechanical parts seem in a really healthy state of operation. There's no sign of contamination or struggling air/oil filtration. The viscosity held comfortably within 0W/20 spec as well and adding Seafoam to the gas shouldn't impact anything in our testing. Nice report at 65,100 total miles. If this oil is still in place, feel free to run it out to 10,000 miles like you have sometimes in the past.
