Ssscheme On Lit Second Term 2014 2015:

Indonesia's Regional and Global Engagement Moch Faisal Karim, 2023-06-16 Karim examines the changes and continuity of Indonesia's foreign policy in the post authoritarian era under presidents Susilo Bambang Yudhoyono and Joko Widodo. Indonesia conceptualised and aimed to adopt four principle roles after 2004 being a voice for developing countries, being a regional leader, being an advocate for democratic and human rights and being a bridge builder. These roles however were by no means stable and were constantly being negotiated and contested. Karim analyses the contested nature of Indonesian foreign policy and the limits this places on consistency in enacting these roles. He highlights two drivers for such limitations: conflicting role conceptions and state fragmentation. He develops this argument based on four case studies of Indonesia's engagement in human rights governance and trade governance at both regional and global levels. Essential reading for students and scholars of Indonesia's foreign policy that will also be of substantial value to those studying policy in Southeast Asia more broadly.

Political Handbook of the World 2015 Tom Lansford, 2015-03-24 The Political Handbook of the World provides timely thorough and accurate political information with more in depth coverage of current political controversies than any other reference guide. The updated 2015 edition will continue to be the most authoritative source for finding complete facts and analysis on each country's governmental and political makeup. Compiling in one place more than 200 entries on countries and territories throughout the world, this volume is renowned for its extensive coverage of all major and minor political parties and groups in each political system. It also provides names of key ambassadors and international memberships of each country plus detailed profiles of more than 30 intergovernmental organizations and UN agencies. And this annual update includes coverage of current events, issues, crises and controversies from the course of this year.

Challenges to Emerging and Established Powers Marco Vieira, Jonathan Grix, 2017-10-02 This edited volume explores the analytical possibilities of contrasting Brazil and the United Kingdom as examples of emerging and established powers respectively. It is organised around several themes focusing on the roles of Brazil and the United Kingdom in the management of global economic governance, international development, international security, the politics of regional integration, global climate change governance and the political leveraging of sports mega events. Each chapter explores Brazil's and/or the UK's particular foreign policies and their resulting impact on these key areas of global governance and politics. The conceptual focus is on these states' motivations as either status seekers (Brazil) or status maintainers (UK) in the context of a fast moving international landscape. The chapters in this book directly or indirectly indicate that these states wish to draw attention to their aspiring or established positions as key global players through either visible foreign policy action and/or symbolic rhetoric. This book was originally published as a special issue of Global Society.

Law of Finance for Renewable Energy Projects in the EU Theodoros G. Iliopoulos, 2024-12-11 The book delves into the nascent field of renewable energy support law with a focus on the European Union (EU). It critically interprets and analyses the rules and the legal system that govern the finance of renewable energy projects in the EU The book scrutinises the different types of support schemes and elucidates how they work what effects they generate and how they have been applied in practice It expounds the impact of EU secondary legislation on national renewable energy support policies distinguishing three aspects selection design and implementation of support schemes For a complete comprehension of the field the legal analysis is combined with law and economics analysis Recent initiatives for the financing support of renewable energy projects at the EU level EU Renewables Financing Mechanism Hydrogen Bank and Auctions as a Service are also appraised and broader recommendations for the future consolidation and development of EU renewable energy support law are proposed The book fills a gap in the study of the law governing the finance of renewable energy projects and it is a valuable companion for jurists both practitioners and academics as well as for professionals and students who wish to decode the law of finance for renewable energy sources

Available in both print and e book formats and priced low to fit student and library budgets Beyond the passbook relationship: Assessing preferences for contracts among cotton and tea farmers and companies in Malawi Ochieng, Dennis O., While contract farming provides opportunities to link smallholder farmers to markets its sustainability depends on how the interests of both farmers and buyers are addressed Previous studies analyze farmers preferences for contracts but buyers preferences for contracts and design attributes are hardly examined This Working Paper contributes to the knowledge gap by analyzing farmers and buyers preferences for contracts and design attributes and the similarities and differences in preferences using a discrete choice experiment with 505 cotton farmers and 512 tea farmers in southern Malawi Using a mixed logit model the author examines farmers and buyers preferences and estimate farmers willingness to pay for improvement of contract attributes Results show that both farmers and buyers have positive preferences for contracts in general and for many design attributes The author however observes clear differences in preference for payment mode where farmers prefer spot payments while buyers prefer delayed payments Further while both parties prefer better quality products there are no standardized grading systems for the two crops in Malawi Consequently buyers are skeptical of farmers ability to produce quality products while farmers are distrustful of buyers grading systems Even though buyers are open to offer contracts that provide inputs or insurance to farmers there are no information sharing platforms to guide in contracting farmers thus exposing buyers to risks of contract default The author also finds that farmers prefer contracts that address their social needs as seen in their choice of contracts with funeral expenses insurance Such attributes could strengthen the relationship between farmers and buying companies Sustainable contract schemes require designing contracts that are acceptable to both farmers and buyers by balancing risks between the parties Successful contract relationships have to build business relationships and foster mutual trust by developing standardized grading systems and information sharing platforms for buyers and farmers to guide selection into the schemes To minimize side selling companies can advance cash credit to liquidity constrained farmers but this must be accompanied by stronger contract enforcement mechanisms Smart Cities and Tourism: Co-creating experiences, challenges and opportunities Dimitrios Buhalis, Babak Taheri, Roya Rahimi, 2022-10-01 Smart cities are cities which use different types of electronic methods and sensors to collect data With international contributions from well respected international academics it brings state of art knowledge on marketing management and related areas e g urban studies from a new modern perspective within the smart cities

Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge 2015 University of Cambridge, 2015-10-08 The official Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge Pink Tides, Right Turns in Latin America Charmain Levy, Manuel Larrabure, 2024-10-18 This book presents case studies around issues of national development right wing populism and use of social media left wing authoritarianism and popular uprisings as well as reflections on short and long term political and economic cycles in Latin America in the past 10 years Scholars government and civil society practitioners have long recognized both the democratic and development deficit in Latin American countries as well as their potential. The path towards a consolidated democratic state and civil society as well as socio economic collective well being has been far from linear and this edited collection provides theoretical clarity on the social political and economic dynamics driving these changes such as historical cycles in the commodities market the emergence of new social movements the rise and pitfalls of populism the influence of corporate media and the erosion of democratic institutions. The chapters in this volume approach the topic of Latin American right and Left forces by attempting to determine whether a new and potentially long term political cycle is unfolding in the region. To this end the chapters focus on a perspective that compares the emergence of the new Right with the successes and limitations of the previous 20 years of Pink Tide governance. This volume will be of great use to students and researchers interested in Latin American studies comparative politics as well as political leadership. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Globalizations.

From Consumer Experience to Affective Loyalty: Challenges and Prospects in the Psychology of Consumer Behavior 3.0 María Pilar Martínez-Ruiz, Mónica Gómez-Suárez, Ana Isabel Jiménez-Zarco, Alicia Izquierdo-Yusta, 2018-02-19. This research topic for Frontiers in Psychology highlights some of the more relevant changes that have conditioned consumer behavior in recent years among these the paradigm shift in marketing is worth emphasizing. Today the market and the companies are implementing Marketing 4.0. This new marketing approach modifies both the business rules and the channels by changing the way to dialogue interact and relation with consumers. The present Research Topic brings together 30 studies by 76 authors who analyzed the relevance of consumer behavior changes under this new paradigm using different theoretical and methodological frameworks. These different papers mainly constituting original research examine a variety of sub topics including online and mobile environments value co creation internal marketing strategies and diverse industries and product markets. Given this broad selection of papers we encourage readers to draw their own conclusions about the complex phenomena of consumer behavior. Our hope is that these different perspectives will cover various gaps in the field and prompt discussion among the audience of Frontiers in Psychology.
