Staar 10th World History Study Guide:

The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson, 2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States

Tangredi,2000 This survey is a product of the Quadrennial Defense Review QDR 2001 Working Group a project of the Institute for National Strategic Studies at the National Defense University Sponsored by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff the working group is an independent honest broker effort intended to build intellectual capital for the upcoming QDR More specifically it aims to frame issues develop options and provide insights for the Chairman the services and the next administration in three areas defense strategy criteria for sizing conventional forces and force structure for 2005 2010 One of the group s initial tasks was to assess the future security environment to the year 2025 This was pursued by surveying the available literature to identify areas of consensus and debate The goal was to conduct an assessment that would be far more comprehensive than any single research project or group effort could possibly produce This survey documents major areas of agreement and disagreement across a range of studies completed since the last QDR in 1997 Because it distills a variety of sources and organizes and compares divergent views this volume makes a unique contribution to the literature It also provides a particularly strong set of insights and assumptions on which both strategists and force planners can draw in the next Quadrennial Defense Review This survey does not claim to predict or illustrate all possible wars that Anmrca might face between now and the year 2025 Rather it attempts through analysis of representative and reputable sources to incorporate the most likely characteristics of the future security environment into a single scenario while heightening our awareness of dissenting viewpoints and plausible wild cards ISSUES ON WAR & PEACE Julie Kimber,Phillip Deery,Warwick Eather,Drew Cottle,Nic Maclelland,Jonathan Strauss,Michael Hamel-Green,Jeanette Debney-Joyce,Doris LeRoy,David Faber,2015-02-15 These proceedings carry some of the papers delivered at the 14th Biennial Labour History Conference 11 13 February 2015 Titled

Fighting Against War Peace Activism in the Twentieth Century the conference was held at the University of Melbourne A conference book of refereed papers has been published under that title and these proceedings carry the non refereed papers received for publication There is one exception to that rule the paper written by Warwick Eather and Drew Cottle published below which underwent double blind refereeing It is an important paper which demonstrates with compelling evidence that the rabbit was anything but a curse to the many men women and children who took advantage of the rabbit industry s resilience during the economic storms for much of the twentieth century It exemplifies how meticulous research in labour history can provide an entirely new understanding of an otherwise much maligned animal in Australia The next three papers all concern opposition to nuclear testing from the 1950s to the 1980s When read together they provide a convincing argument for the importance and efficacy of the diverse anti nuclear movements in Australia New Zealand and the Pacific Islands Whilst there are inevitable overlaps these papers emphasise different and often neglected dimensions the struggle for recognition of and compensation for the devastating effects of nuclear testing the internal dynamics of the various nuclear disarmament organisations and an evaluation of their impact on government policy culminating in the Rarotonga Treaty of 1985 The last three papers cover aspects of World War I the Cold War and the Vietnam War The first focuses on the role of one redoubtable woman Ettie Rout in challenging popular misconceptions about venereal disease held by military authorities and the soldiers themselves The next paper examines the life of a Czech Lutheran pastor Professor Josef Hrom dka who visited Australia twice during the 1950s Hrom dka attempted to juggle Christianity with Socialism which in the prevailing climate of strident anti communism provoked hostile receptions and Cold War invective The final paper in this collection brings to life through the reflections of a participant observer the preparations conduct and impact of Adelaide s largest anti war demonstration the protest against the invasion of Iraq in 2003 organised by the NoWar collective Its efforts undertaken by a broad range of rank and file activists is a fitting reminder and exemplar of the theme of our conference peace activism in the twentieth century
