ROLM PHILOSOPHY

ROLM Corporation was founded in 1969 with four goals:

To Make a Profit
To Grow
To Offer Quality Products and Customer Support
To Create a Great Place to Work

The four goals are closely interrelated. One cannot exist without the others. In order for ROLM to profit, it must offer quality products and customer support. In order to grow, it must profit. And in order to develop quality products and customer support, ROLM must maintain a work environment conducive to creativity and productivity.

In the course of our history, certain practices have proven successful in achieving the four goals. These practices have become known as the attributes of success at ROLM. The goals and the attributes taken together constitute the ROLM philosophy.

ROLM Philosophy provides a basis for this highly structured company. We do not have to maintain an environment of spirit and to avoid bureaucracy through broad decentralization of responsibility and authority. This approach consistently leads to efficiencies of operation. However, we believe that is the only environment that provides the individual freedom required for creative thinking and rapid response to the changing needs of the marketplace. We are convinced that a highly structured, bureaucratic organization is much less effective than our organization. Uniquely, that form of organization would stifle almost the talented people we have at ROLM.

ROLM Philosophy is the basis for most of our decisions making. It indicates much of what we are looking at ROLM and where we are headed. This statement of the Philosophy is presented for your consideration and implementation.

ROLM

To Make a Profit

A primary reason for the existence of most businesses is our economic society is to make a profit. Making a profit is necessary to finance the business into the future. It is unnecessary to borrow additional funds for rising research and development, expanding facilities, satisfying customers, maintaining more loans, and strengthening sales and service resources. ROLM profits, with the exception of those distributed to our employee profit-sharing plan, have always been totally reinvested in the business.

Further, making a profit is necessary if does not threaten to make the owners richer but to protect the company. A consistent profit picture provides a secure basis for thoughtful consideration of future investments. Every profit dollar lost is an investment in which the owners may be liable with their personal assets should the company fail.

To Grow

A company can succeed successfully with short-only it's given. Further, the ultimate reason for our shareholders to undertake is purchase growth. At ROLM we recognize two other major reasons for strong, planned growth.

First, there is a practical reason. ROLM competes against the giants of the world's most successful companies. Revenue in this competition is essential to gaining market share from competitors that are very expensive and makes the most gains in quality those large markets in which we choose to operate.

Secondly, there is a really human reason for corporate growth. The opportunities for the growth of each individual is important upon the quality growth of ROLM Corporation. Conversely, the growth of ROLM Corporation is important upon the growth of each individual.

To Offer Quality Products and Customer Support

ROLM has a single most reason for being in existence: to provide the most quality products and customer support. We have never lost sight of this objective. We concentrate our research and development efforts on quality products, not gimmicks. We are committed to the highest standards of quality. ROLM customers can look to expect the future ROLM product as extraordinary enhancing their lives.

However, our products are only a portion of the total quality ROLM offers. We are also committed to providing the most customer support in the industry. The business marketing customer needs quickly, interacting with customers and promptly installing our systems, and offering a wide range of services. In this manner, we strive to meet the loyalty of our customers.

To Create a Great Place to Work

The final three goals of ROLM are shared by many companies throughout the world. The fourth - to create a great place to work - is rare. In many of the other organizations that make this one of its own goals.

We do this with simply because we want to. We do and encourage the best that the brightest people that we hire. In order to attract and motivate the best and the brightest people, we have developed a few basic and challenging work environment, a very competitive compensation and benefits plan, and physical surroundings reflecting the quality of ROLM people.

The Opportunity and Challenge of the ROLM work environment is significant as a most responsibility. ROLM encourages and to provide rapid opportunity to grow and be promoted. We recognize we have individual values that demand active encouragement in an exciting, rapidly changing environment. We provide an opportunity to be rewarded based on job performance in the context of ROLM Philosophy. ROLM people are expected to respond to many individually accountable assignments, assist others in collective teamwork, participate in the best of on-the-job training, and contribute to the continuing development of ROLM Philosophy.

Scott Hansen,2018-03 This unique text and video set presents a thorough introduction to Autodesk Inventor for anyone with little or no prior experience with CAD software It can be used in virtually any setting from four year engineering schools to on the job use or self study Unlike other books of its kind it begins at a very basic level and ends at a very advanced level It s perfect for anyone interested in learning Autodesk Inventor quickly and effectively using a learning by doing approach Additionally the extensive videos that are included with this book make it easier than ever to learn Inventor by clearly demonstrating how to use its tools The philosophy behind this book is that learning computer aided design programs is best accomplished by emphasizing the application of the tools Students also seem to learn more quickly and retain information and skills better if they are actually creating something with the software program The driving force behind this book is learning by doing The instructional format of this book centers on making sure that students learn by doing and that students can learn from this book on their own In fact this is one thing that differentiates this book from others the emphasis on being able to use the book for self study The presentation of Autodesk Inventor is structured so that no previous knowledge of any CAD program is required This book uses the philosophy that Inventor is mastered best by concentrating on applying the program to create different types of solid models starting simply and then using the power of the program to progressively create more complex solid models The Drawing Activities at the end of each chapter are more complex iterations of the part developed by each chapter s objectives Since CAD programs are highly visual there are graphical illustrations showing how to use the program This reinforces the learn by doing philosophy since a student can see exactly what the program shows and then step through progressive commands to implement the required operations Rather than using a verbal description of the command a screen capture of each command is replicated Official Gazette of the United States Patent and Trademark Office ,1994
