The Ares Disk Clifford Osei Takyi,2010-01-21 A disk containing sensitive nuclear information and capabilities is missing from United States government facilities This raises the prospect of nuclear war if the information on the disk falls into wrong hands The political and military leadership of the United States call Kwame Harris a former US military officer out of retirement to help avert the unthinkable and retrieve the disk Kwame and his team employ the use of modern weaponry technology and sheer wit to counter their adversaries However will this be enough to outsmart their adversaries Their relentless pursuit of the disk leads them to confront unsavory characters unforgiving terrain varied culture and recent world history in their race to save mankind Particulate Emissions from Vehicles Peter Eastwood,2008-04-15

The public health risks posed by automotive particulate emissions are well known Such particles are sufficiently small to reach the deepest regions of the lungs and moreover act as carriers for many potentially toxic substances Historically diesel engines have been singled out in this regard but recent research shows the need to consider particulate emissions from gasoline engines as well Already implicated in more than one respiratory disease the strongest evidence in recent times points to particle mediated cardiovascular disorders strokes and heart attacks Accordingly legislation limiting particulate emissions is becoming increasingly stringent placing great pressure on the automotive industry to produce cleaner vehicles pressure only heightened by the ever increasing number of cars on our roads Particulate Emissions from Vehicles addresses a field of increased international interest and research activity discusses the impact of new legislation globally on the automotive industry and explains new ways of measuring particle size number and composition that are currently under development The expert analysis and summary of the state of the art which encompasses the key areas of combustion performance measurement techniques and toxicology will appeal to R D practitioners and engineers working in the automotive industry and related mechanical fields as well as postgraduate students and researchers of engine technology air pollution and life environmental science The public health aspects will also appeal to the biomedical research community

Automotive Manufacturing & Production ,2000 Empirical Social Research Michael Häder,2022-11-11 Social science methods such as surveys observations and content analyses are used in market research studies of contemporary history urban planning and communication research They are all the more needed by sociologists and empirically working political scientists Whether in the context of evaluating a prevention programme or for surveying health behaviour or for a study on social mobility the confident handling of the social science instruments is always a prerequisite for obtaining reliable results This book provides important information for users and developers of these instruments It deals with the theoretical foundations of the methods the steps in the conception and implementation of a project the many variants of data collection the methods to be used in the selection of study units as well as the principles to be observed in the evaluation and documentation of the findings With the help of numerous examples a particularly clear presentation is achieved In the fourth updated edition river sampling has now been included in the selection process digital methods are increasingly presented and against the background of the new data protection regulation research ethics and data protection are also updated

No Speed Limit Stuart Bladon, 2015-10-05 During his sixty years as a motoring journalist Stuart Bladon test drove almost every car on the road Working for Autocar and later as a freelance writer he was granted access to some of the oddest vehicles off the road as well including the three wheeled Bond Minicar in which he was very nearly killed The best part of any car test however was finding out how fast they would go In 1970 he set what was for a long time Autocar's fastest road test maximum speed at 172mph Going back to the days when the only speed limit was the 30mph restriction in built up areas each chapter of this book brings a motoring story of travel testing and adventure Since a fond aunt began teaching him to drive at the age of 7 Stuart Bladon has enjoyed a lifelong passion for cars This book recounts the many motors and the colourful escapades of a life spent very near if not over the speed limit , Advanced Microsystems for Automotive
