Trampling Down Death By Death:

Trampling Down Death by Death Father Spyridon Bailey, 2014-12-19 Father Spyridon invites the reader to confront the reality of their own death Through the ancient truths of the Orthodox Church he demonstrates how only when we have a true understanding of death can we begin to discover and live out the purpose of our existence He dispels many modern myths concerning purgatory the rapture judgement the soul heaven and hell angels and many more Though deeply spiritual Trampling Down Death By Death offers a pragmatic approach to the reality of our mortality

When God Is Not There Nikolaos, 2018-01-10 This book records simple events and conversations all the while grappling with difficult questions In all this we see the human struggle to discover the person of God when that is veiled by the logic of this world our limited understanding and the arrogant pretensions of human littleness The book engages intensely with complex and difficult issues which understandably concern us all but which leave us confused and at times scandalised What it does not do is give any direct answers or try to persuade the reader through logic or impressive arguments Its aim is to convey the sense of the discreet yet persuasive presence of the true God precisely in situations where He is not visible in pain in disability in the tragedies of life in inexorable death as this comes across in true events and is reflected in the lives of real people

The Eschatological Person Andrew T. J. Kaethler, 2022-07-12 Both Alexander Schmemmann and Joseph Ratzinger insist that the human person remains shrouded in mystery without God's self disclosure in the person of Jesus Christ. Like us, Jesus lived in a particular time and location and therefore time and temporality must be part of the ontological question of what it means to be a human person. Yet Jesus, the one who has time for us, ascended to the Father and the bride of Christ awaits his return and therefore time and temporality are conditioned by the eschatological. With this in mind, the ontological question of personhood and temporality is a question that concerns eschatology: how does eschatology shape personhood? Bringing together Schmemmann and Ratzinger in a theological dialogue for the first time, this book explores their respective approaches and answers to the aforementioned question. While the two theologians share much in common, it is only Ratzinger's relational ontological approach that, by being consistently relational from top to bottom, consistently preserves the meaningfulness of temporal existence.

The Lord Is Risen He Is Risen Indeed! He Really Is Richard Sheffield, 1998. Richard Sheffield's preaching is stimulating and unique. Whenever I am burdened or under pressure, his pithy insights into the Gospel of our Lord refresh my spirit. They sometimes also sting my soul to pay attention to more significant things in life than preoccupying problems. He is also a courageous preacher when he says things we all think or doubt and dare not to express. He handles life's misgivings kindly and cleanly so that listening to him is a religious experience. This comes about because he came to the temple of religion through the corridors of commerce and knows the real world of his laymen. Under his gentle manner, there is the fire of Peter Thomas and St. Paul, all of whom also preached with integrity and conviction. Bryant Kirkland, Minister Emeritus, Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, New York. At first glance, the Easter title may seem out of place for a book half full of sermons for Lent. But Richard Sheffield argues and preaches that the sermon for Easter Day is really the sermon for every day in the life of a Christian. The Lord Is Risen is really the only sermon we have or need to have. How we live out our lives in response to that central fact of our faith fills the sermons in Lent as well as Easter with hope. Hope in the here and now as well as in the hereafter. Rev. Sheffield has little patience with those who would turn the good news about God into the bad news about us, and it shows. He writes: Belief is more than just ascertaining the facts and figures of faith. Or figuring out the best way to keep God happy long enough to get into heaven. Belief is living life now, certain of the love of God in Jesus Christ for you and me. Living life unafraid even of death itself. Richard L. Sheffield is senior pastor of Market Street Presbyterian Church, Lima, Ohio. He holds a Master of Divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary and an M.B.A. degree from the University of Chicago. He is a candidate for the Doctor of Ministry degree at Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Liturgical Dogmatics David Fagerberg, 2021-06-17. God is literally indescribable, not able to be written down. How can we do dogmatics when there is an absolute difference between the Creator and the creature? How dare we say anything about God without his permission? God is incomprehensible, but he is not unapproachable. He gives access to himself in the liturgy he has given us. There, what dogma stammers to state, liturgy celebrates in mystical participation, what knowledge cannot fasten together, love unites. Liturgical Dogmatics examines dogma in light of liturgy. It is not a theology of liturgy because it does not look at liturgy rather it looks through liturgy to see the whole sweeping saving activity of God which dogma describes Through this lens the author illuminates thirty six classic dogmas in a readable and sometimes imaginative way He shows that while dogma protects the mystery of divine love from heretical corruption its final goal is achieved when the believer is united to that mystery in liturgical worship

Jesus: Fallen? Emmanuel Hatzidakis, 2013-11-01 Was Jesus Christ a fallen human being like us Was His human nature corrupt and sinful inherently and necessarily subject to suffering and death Did He inherit a fallen humanity If His humanity was fallen how was He sinless Did He have human ignorance In what way was His human will involved in the plan of salvation What effect did the hypostatic union have on His humanity In Jesus Fallen Emmanuel Hatzidakis a Greek Orthodox priest addresses these and other controversial questions pertaining to the human nature of Christ which are debated in many Christian denominations and in his own Church The theology advanced in the book is the traditional theology of the historic Church In all the modern confusion of multiple Christs here we have the perennial image of the incarnate God the Theanthropos Christ The book should appeal to every serious Christian and student of theology history of dogma and Church History who is comfortable neither with liberalism nor fundamentalism but who is searching for the authentically true teachings of Christianity Hatzidakis draws richly from the patristic inheritance of East and West in an original refreshing and accessible way He refutes opinions formed by many eminent postlapsarian theologians This pivotal study is the first to address this topic from an Eastern Orthodox perspective and in this regard it constitutes an important contribution to Christology A well researched study it sheds light from an Eastern Orthodox perspective on this intriguing and crucial topic It maintains that the subject of Christ's humanity and its understanding is neither a theologoumenon nor an abstract intellectual cogitation but a matter of profound soteriological and anthropological import
