Philosophy S Artful Conversation:

Philosophy's Artful Conversation D. N. Rodowick, 2015-01-05 Theory has been an embattled discourse in the academy for decades But now it faces a serious challenge from those who want to model the analytical methods of all scholarly disciplines on the natural sciences What is urgently needed says D N Rodowick is a revitalized concept of theory that can assess the limits of scientific explanation and defend the unique character of humanistic understanding Philosophy s Artful Conversation is a timely and searching examination of theory s role in the arts and humanities today Expanding the insights of his earlier book Elegy for Theory and drawing on the diverse thought of Ludwig Wittgenstein G H von Wright P M S Hacker Richard Rorty and Charles Taylor Rodowick provides a blueprint of what he calls a philosophy of the humanities In a surprising and illuminating turn he views the historical emergence of theory through the lens of film theory arguing that aesthetics literary studies and cinema studies cannot be separated where questions of theory are concerned These discourses comprise a conceptual whole providing an overarching model of critique that resembles in embryonic form what a new philosophy of the humanities might look like Rodowick offers original readings of Gilles Deleuze and Stanley Cavell bringing forward unexamined points of contact between two thinkers who associate philosophical expression with film and the arts A major contribution to cross disciplinary intellectual history Philosophy s Artful Conversation reveals the many threads connecting the arts and humanities with the history of philosophy Philosophy's Artful Conversation D. N.

Rodowick, 2015-01-05 Theory an embattled discourse for decades faces a new challenge from those who want to model the methods of all scholarly disciplines on the sciences What is urgently needed says D N Rodowick is a revitalized concept of theory that can assess the limits of scientific explanation and defend the unique character of humanistic understanding

Education on Film Alexis Gibbs, 2019-12-09 This book argues that certain films have more to offer by way of conceptualising education than textual scholarship Drawing on the work of the later Wittgenstein it suggests that a shift in our philosophical focus from knowing to seeing can allow for ordinary educational phenomena teachers schools children to be appreciated anew The book argues that cinema is the medium best placed to draw attention to this revaluation of the everyday and particular films are presented as offering unique insights into the aesthetic nature of education as a concept The book will be of primary interest to educators and educationalists alike but its interdisciplinary nature should also appeal to those in the fields of film study philosophy and aesthetics     Plato and the Moving Image Shai Biderman, Michael Weinman, 2019-05-27

This book shows how and why debates in the philosophy of film can be advanced through the study of the role of images in Plato's dialogues and conversely why Plato studies stands to benefit from a consideration of recent debates in the philosophy of film Contributions range from a reading of Phaedo as a ghost story to thinking about climate change documentaries through Plato's account of pleonexia They suggest how philosophical aesthetics can be reoriented by attending anew to Plato's deployment of images particularly images that move They also show how Plato's deployment of images is integral to his practice as a literary artist Contributors are Shai Biderman David Calhoun Michael Forest Jorge Tomas Garcia Abraham Jacob Greenstine Paul A Kottman Danielle A Layne David McNeill Erik W Schmidt Timothy Secret Adrian Switzer and Michael Weinman     Film, Art, and the Limits of Science Malcolm Turvey, 2025-04-26

There is currently a vigorous debate in film studies and related disciplines about the extent to which scientific paradigms like evolutionary psychology and neuroscience can explain the cinema and other artforms This debate tends to devolve into extreme positions with many film scholars and other humanists insisting that science has little or no role to play in the study of the arts while a minority contends that it is always needed to fully account for cultural phenomena like film Malcolm Turvey advocates for a more moderate position He argues that while the sciences can explain much about film and the other arts there is much about these phenomena that only humanistic methods can account for He thereby mounts a trenchant defence of the purpose and value of humanistic explanation one that nevertheless acknowledges and welcomes the legitimate contribution of the sciences to the study of the arts     An Introduction to Design Arguments Benjamin C. Jantzen, 2014-02-27 The history of design arguments stretches back to before Aquinas who claimed that things which lack intelligence nevertheless act for an end to achieve the best result Although science has advanced to discredit this claim it remains true that many biological systems display remarkable adaptations of means to ends Versions of design arguments have persisted over the centuries and have culminated in theories that propose an intelligent designer of the universe This volume is the only comprehensive survey of 2 000 years of debate drawing on both historical and modern literature to identify clarify and assess critically the many forms of design argument for the existence of God It provides a neutral informative account of the topic from antiquity to Darwin and includes concise primers on probability and cosmology It will be of great value to upper level undergraduates and graduates in philosophy of religion theology and philosophy of science      Philosophy and Film Christina Rawls, Diana Neiva, Steven S. Gouveia, 2019-04-25 This volume collects twenty original essays on the philosophy of film It uniquely brings together scholars working across a range of philosophical traditions and academic disciplines to broaden and advance debates on film and philosophy The book includes contributions from a number of prominent philosophers of film including Noël Carroll, Chris Falzon, Deborah Knight, Paisley Livingston, Robert Sinnerbrink, Malcolm Turvey and Thomas Wartenberg While the topics explored by the contributors are diverse there are a number of thematic threads that connect them Overall the book seeks to bridge analytic and continental approaches to philosophy of film in fruitful ways Moving to the individual essays the first two sections offer novel takes on the philosophical value and the nature of film The next section focuses on the film as philosophy debate Section IV covers cinematic experience while Section V includes interpretations of individual films that touch on questions of artificial intelligence race and film and cinema's biopolitical potential Finally the last section proposes new avenues for future research on the moving image beyond film This book will appeal to a broad range of scholars working in film studies theory and philosophy      The Palgrave Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject Core areas treated include film ontology film structure psychology authorship narrative and viewer emotion Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues film's kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject      Practical Aesthetics Bernd Herzogenrath, 2020-10-15 This collection brings together artists and theoreticians to provide the first anthology of a new field Practical Aesthetics A work of art already contains its own criticism a knowledge of its own which need not be conceptual or propositional Yet today there are many approaches to different forms of art that work on the brink between science and art sensible cognition and proposition aesthetic knowledge and rational knowledge while thinking with art or the artistic material rather than about it This volume presents ways of thinking with different forms of art film sound dance literature etc as well as new forms of aesthetic research and presentation such as Media Philosophy the audiovisual essay fictocriticism the audio paper and Artistic Research It reveals how writing about art can become artistic or poetic in its own right not only writing about artistic effects but producing them in the first place This takes art not as an object of external analysis but as a subject with a knowledge in its own right creating a co-composing conceptual interference pattern between theory and practice A practical aesthetics thus understood can be described as thinking with art in order to find new ways to create worlds and thus to make the world perceivable in different ways      An Education in Judgment D. N. Rodowick, 2023-08-02 In An Education in Judgment philosopher D N Rodowick makes his definitive case for a philosophical humanistic education as the development of a life guided by both self reflection and interpersonal exchange Such a life is an education in judgment the moral capacity to draw conclusions alone and with others and to let one s own judgments be answerable to the potentially contrasting judgments of others Thinking for Rodowick is an art we practice with and learn from each other all the time In taking this approach Rodowick follows the lead of Hannah Arendt who made judgment the cornerstone of her conception of community Arendt was famously wary of mass culture and so community in an authentic sense must be safeguarded from its many false guises What is important for Rodowick as for Arendt is the cultivation of free relations in which we allow our judgments to be affected and transformed by those of others creating an ever widening fabric of intersubjective moral consideration This is a fragile fabric to be sure but one well worth pursuing caring for and preserving This is an original work in which the author thinks with Arendt about the importance of the humanities and what the humanities amounts to beyond the university

Historical Turns Nicholas Baer, 2024-07-30 Historical Turns reassesses Weimar cinema in light of the crisis of historicism widely diagnosed by German philosophers in the early twentieth century Through bold new analyses of five legendary works of German silent cinema The Cabinet of Dr Caligari Destiny Rhythm 21 The Holy Mountain and Metropolis Nicholas Baer argues that films of the Weimar Republic lent vivid expression to the crisis of historical thinking With their experiments in cinematic form and style these modernist films revealed the capacity of the medium to engage with fundamental questions about the philosophy of history Reconstructing the debates over historicism that unfolded during the initial decades of moving image culture Historical Turns proposes a more reflexive mode of historiography and expands the field of film and media philosophy The book excavates a rich archive of ideas that illuminate our own moment of rapid media transformation and political economic and environmental crises around the globe      John Dewey and the Artful Life Scott R. Stroud, 2015-09-10 Aesthetic experience has had a long and contentious history in the Western intellectual tradition Following Kant and Hegel a human s interaction with nature or art frequently has been conceptualized as separate from issues of practical activity or moral value This book examines how art can be seen as a way of moral cultivation Scott Stroud uses the thought of the American pragmatist John Dewey to argue that art and the aesthetic have a close connection to morality Dewey gives us a way to reconceptualize our ideas of ends means and experience so as to locate the moral value of aesthetic experience in the experience of absorption itself as well as in the experience of reflective attention evoked by an art object      Communication at A Distance David S. Kaufer, Kathleen M. Carley, 2012-10-12 This book bridges an important gap between two major approaches to mass communication historical and social scientific To do so it employs a theory of communication that unifies social cultural and technological concerns into a systematic and formal framework that is then used to examine the impact of print within the larger socio cultural context and across multiple historical contexts The authors integrate historical studies and more abstract formal representations achieving a set of logically coherent and well delimited hypotheses that invite further exploration both historically and experimentally A second gap that the book addresses is in the area of formal models of communication and diffusion Such models typically assume a homogeneous population and a communication whose message is abstracted from the complexities of language processing In contrast the model presented in this book treats the population as heterogeneous and communications as potentially variable in their content as they move across speakers or readers Written to address and overcome many of the disciplinary divisions that have prevented the study of print from being approached from the perspective of a unified theory this book employs a focused interdisciplinary position that encompasses several domains It shows the underlying compatibility between cognitive and social theory between the study of language and cognition and the study of technology between the postmodern interest in the instability of meaning and the social science interest in the diffusion of information between the effects of technology and issues of cultural homogeneity and heterogeneity Overall this book reveals how small relatively non interactive disciplinary specific conversations about print are usefully conceived of as part of a larger interdisciplinary inquiry

Teacher Education for Critical and Reflexive Interculturality Fred Dervin,Andreas Jacobsson,2021-05-25 This book deals with the importance of interculturality in teacher education and training It is mostly through the concept of intercultural competence that interculturality has been constructed and problematized for educators However different approaches and paradigms are available and differ and or share similarities in terms of ideology method practice theoretical frameworks and ethical considerations There is no global agreement on the meanings of interculturality in teacher education and training although some principles might be common across national borders There is thus a need for educators to consider these aspects of interculturality in education to be able to become better teachers in a diverse world like ours
